BORAH SPEAKS FOR DRY LAW IN BALTIMORE

Construe Speech of Senator to Be Bid for Presidential Candidacy

HAS SUPPORT OF WEST

Talk May Be Challenge to Coolidge to Support Volstead Law

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright, 1926, by the Post Pub. Co.
Washington—Many a man in the political limelight has long ceased to grow impatient over the inevitable attempts to construe his speeches as bidding for a presidential candidacy and Senator William E. Borah of Idaho is no exception.

But it is a serious question whether the Idaho senator struck out for himself when he made his speech at Baltimore demanding unqualified support for the Eighteenth Amendment while it is in the constitution and calling on the people not to be misled into a campaign of nullification. Mr. Borah's chief role in recent years has been to affect the attitude of other candidates. So what Mr. Borah has done can be construed as no less than a prodding of President Coolidge, who in recent months has maintained an interesting silence on the prohibition question. His attitude is defended by his friends as a dignified retention of presidential policy for having said everything possible in the last two years on the subject of enforcement and having issued an executive order to obtain rigid enforcement of the Volstead law. The supporters of the president see no reason why he should enter into a public debate on the merits of the prohibition question itself.

Mr. Borah, nevertheless, has taken advantage of Mr. Coolidge's silence and has outdried all other dryers by his emphatic statements. For several weeks the tide has been running the other way. The "wets" have had the center of the stage and the New York state referendum plus aggressive efforts in the United States Senate to annul a national referendum have given the impression that something tangible in the way of wet sentiment was developing inside congress.

The "drys" have been waiting the opportunity for a firm utterance that would challenge the "wets." Senator Borah stands out as the leader of the progressive group in the senate and perhaps the most independent minded of all the members of the senate. He follows neither party call nor what is known as popular sentiment. He blazes the trail in his own way.

SENATE DRY CHAMPION
Coming from the west, of course, where prohibition has been more or less of a fixture for several years, Mr. Borah does not weaken himself with his own constituency by advocating the dry cause without equivocation. Nor can he expect much support from Eastern Republican states anyhow for a presidential candidacy or anything else. So ignoring the east and looking toward the dry sections of the middle west and the truly arid areas of the far west, Mr. Borah is the logical champion of prohibition in the senate. He has also as chairman of the senate foreign relations committee had opportunities to differ with Mr. Coolidge but he has the advantage over other senators in that his opposition to certain policies manifested itself even before Mr. Coolidge became president. Mr. Borah may be looking toward the presidency himself but in common with others who are watching Mr. Coolidge he is said to realize that until there is a definite cleavage on issues there need be little discussion of personalities. Mr. Coolidge has not gone as far as the anti-Saloon league would like him to go. Mr. Borah's speech challenges him to go further. And it is a warning against any weakening at the White House on the Volstead act. For the drys have a way of digging up a candidate and controlling delegations. Mr. Borah's speech may be looked upon as an affirmative step toward the advancement of his own candidacy for 1928.

VOTE CONFIDENCE IN BRIAND GOVERNMENT

Paris—(P)—The chamber of deputies voted confidence in the Briand government Tuesday afternoon 318 to 142.

KILLS LODGER AND LADY FRIEND FOR NOT HEEDING WISH

Chicago—(P)—When a lodger persisted in his efforts to bring into the house a woman to whose presence he as landlord objected, Derramo Lazar shot and killed them both early Tuesday, he told police who were investigating the deaths on the theory that they were a murder and suicide. Lazar surrendered.

ONLY JUST TO PAY SPEAKERS DRY INSIST

Deny That They Paid Congressmen to Introduce or Champion Bills

Washington, D. C.—(P)—Defending the propriety of paying members of congress for speeches favoring prohibition, Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel of the anti-Saloon league, in a statement published Tuesday, said his organization never had paid a senator or representative for introducing or championing a bill. His statement was issued in reply to one made public by Representative Tinkham, Republican, Massachusetts, announcing that he intended to introduce a resolution Tuesday providing for an investigation by a special house committee to ascertain whether Representative Cramton, Republican, Michigan, or other members had received money or fees from the anti-Saloon league or any other organization interested in legislation pending before congress.

Holding that a member of congress "who has ability enough so that the people want to hear him should not be stopped from this service simply because he is a public official," Wheeler asserted that "when a congressman makes a speech for prohibition, his expenses and sometimes an honorarium is paid by the organization that arranged for it."

Representative Tinkham's charge that the head of the League's professional lobby has admitted that $2,500,000 was spent in one year and $100,000 in a single congressional election, brought from Wheeler the statement that "Tinkham's hallucinations about the league spending two and a half million dollars in politics in a year is nonsense. That was the total spent for all purposes in the height of the campaign for ratification," he went on "and most of it was spent for educational work." The wets he countered "in Pennsylvania alone raised over one million dollars a year to control and corrupt the politics of the state in the saloon days."

SENTENCE SCRIBES TO DAY IN JAIL, FINE EDITOR

Baltimore, Md.—(P)—Managing Editor Harold Elliston of Baltimore News Tuesday was sentenced to one day in jail and fined $5,000 by criminal court Judge Eugene O'Dunne for contempt of court in publication of courtroom pictures of the Richard Reese Whittemore murder trial on May 21.

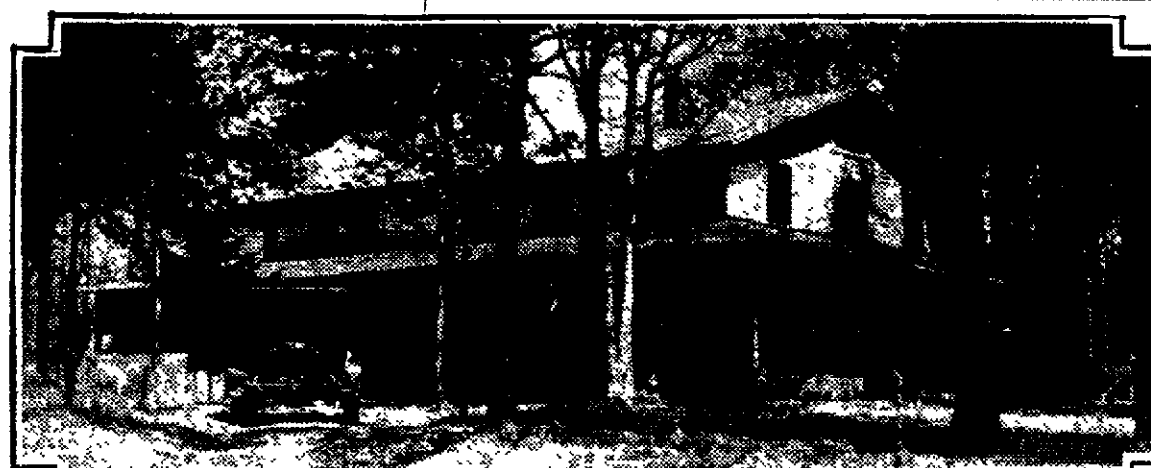

City Editor Harry Clark of the News, Managing Editor Earl C. Deland of the Baltimore American and William Klemm and William Sturm photographers for the two newspapers each were sentenced to one day in jail, with no fine. Counsel for the newspaper men filed notice of appeal and Judge O'Dunne admitted them to bail.

Expert Will Show Women How To Tempt Husbands

Appleton women will have an opportunity to learn the latest modes of making foods that will tempt all members of their families at the Post-Crescent cooking school to be conducted next Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday at Elk club.

Mrs. Alma Hunt of Chicago, an instructor of 14 years experience as a food economist and lecturer-demonstrator will conduct the school. Not only the newest ways of preparing food will be demonstrated by Mrs. Hunt, but she will give those attending an opportunity to pass upon the foods cooked. The program for each day of the school will deal with

VICTIMS OF BOMB OUTRAGE

AUGUST KRUBAECH, JANET KRUBAECH, WILLIAM FRANK

Here are the first photos of figures in the bomb explosion at Muskegon, Mich., that cost three lives. Above is the Three Lakes tavern where the tragedy occurred. Below, left to right, are August Krubaech, proprietor; Janet, his daughter, and William Frank, her fiancé, all of whom were killed when a package which they thought was a wedding present exploded as they opened it. Bartlett, a political opponent of Krubaech confessed and has been sentenced to life imprisonment.

DYNAMITE HOME NONE ARE HURT

House Is Completely Destroyed but Family of Seven Are Merely Shaken

West Bridgeport, Mass.—(P)—The home of Samuel Johnson, brother-in-law of Mrs. Simon Johnson, one of the star witnesses for the state in the Sacco Vanzetti prosecution was dynamited Tuesday morning but Johnson and seven members of his family escaped injury. The house was demolished.

The blast was heard and felt 10 miles away. Although hurried from their beds and severely shaken, members of the Johnson family otherwise were unhurt.

The Johnson home is about a mile from that formerly occupied by Bartolomeo Vanzetti, who with Nicola Sacco was tried and convicted for murder in connection with the robbery on April 15, 1920.

Counsel for the defendants has announced plans for a move to obtain a new trial in the meantime a sentence of death has been stayed.

SEEK IDENTITY OF MAN FOUND DEAD IN POOL

Milwaukee—(P)—Police were continuing their efforts Tuesday to definitely establish the identity of the body of a man taken from a pool near West Allis Monday.

Partial identification indicates the man's name to have been Walter Frenz of Racine. According to information from Racine, Frenz left his home Sunday night to go for a ride with a stranger who was driving a light roadster. This man is being sought by the police.

The condition of the body indicates that the dead man made a desperate fight for his life and the fact that $30 in money was found in the pockets indicates that he was killed in a fight, probably at a party somewhere.

ELECT MOSCICKI HEAD OF POLAND

Assembly Chooses Professor, Whom Pilsudski Recommended, as President

Warsaw, Poland—(P)—Professor Ignatz Moscicki is the new president of Poland. He was elected by the national assembly Tuesday to succeed President Wojciechowski who resigned following the recent military coup led by Marshal Pilsudski.

The election came on the second ballot Tuesday. Professor Moscicki received 281 votes as against 200 for Count Ryniswicz candidate of the right parties and one for M. Marek, Socialist. Sixty-three ballots were blanks. Seven parliamentarians were absent, which meant that 274 votes were necessary for election. Marshal Pilsudski was elected by the assembly Monday but declined the post because he said the constitution did not protect the chief executive against parliament by giving him power to dissolve the legislative body even in case of urgent necessity. Prof. Moscicki elected Tuesday was his choice for the place.

After going through the motion of a protest vote by supporting M. Marek on the first ballot the Socialists swung over to Prof. Moscicki on the second. The declaration of election was received without demonstration by the assembly.

In authoritative circles it is said that the president will request Premier Charles Bartel to form a new cabinet.

PROMINENT MADISON ATTORNEY IS DEAD

Madison—(P)—Rufus B. Smith, 80, well known Madison attorney and Civil War veteran died at his home here early Tuesday.

EXPECT GIRLS TO HELP STATE HANG BANDIT

Two Deserted Women May Testify Against Former Lover on Trial Today

Chicago—(P)—The gauntlet through which Martin J. Durkin, Chicago's shiek bandit, twice shot his way to freedom Tuesday led him to the courtroom to face the first of two murder charges and to confront as possible witnesses against him three former sweethearts.

The trial for which a special venire of 100 has been summoned is for the fatal shooting of Sharon Shanahan, federal agent whose death started the long hunt for Durkin which terminated with his capture at St. Louis several months ago. Shanahan was killed when he surprised Durkin sought for an automobile theft, in a garage here last fall. The defense contends that Durkin had a large sum of money on him at the time and that he shot in the belief that the agent was a bandit.

The unknown element in the trial is the testimony of the three women. Two of them the debonaire Durkin deserted. The third is Irma Sullivan, 18-year-old girl who married the youth during a brief stop in his flight to the Pacific coast. Irma was with him when he was arrested aboard a train in St. Louis.

Betty Werner, the girl who deserted her husband for Durkin and who was in turn deserted by him is relied on by the state as one of its principal witnesses. The prosecution expects to obtain from her Durkin's story of the Shanahan shooting, although she did not witness it. Irma Sullivan may testify if it is established that she is not Marty's legal wife. For which side she will appear is uncertain. The state wants her to tell what Durkin related about his affairs on their fugitive honeymoon to California.

The third feminine figure is Ruth Pliebeck, who appears to be Durkin's legal wife and obtained a divorce. The state seeking a hanging verdict has a second murder charge which it will press should Durkin be acquitted of Shanahan's murder.

BOY DROWNS IN POOL OF WATER 6 FEET DEEP

Oshkosh—(P)—Leroy Ross, aged 17, was drowned Sunday morning while swimming in a gravel pit pool in the town of Algoma. The lad, a capable swimmer, was struck with cramps and drowned in six feet of water. Curtiss Slavon in attempting to save his companion was obliged to use strong means to break the death grip with which Ross seized him and dragged him under and was rescued by Albert Beulen a boy scout who brought Ross' body to the surface after repeated diving.

The police used a lung motor with out effect. No water was found in the lungs.

AMERICA WINS BALLOON RACE BETWEEN NATIONS

Brussels—(P)—The stars and stripes were flying over the Belgian Aero club Tuesday to indicate America's victory in the International Balloon race for the second Gordon Bennett trophy.

The race was won by the Goodreer III manned by Wade T. Van Orman and Walter M. Morgan, which costed 528 miles, landing at Solvesborg southern Sweden. Second place was taken by the United States Army balloon S-16 while the third American entry, the Akron N. A. was disqualified when she struck the ground tumbling out her assistant pilot, H. W. Maxson. Anxiety for the pilot John A. Boettner, was allayed when news came Tuesday morning that the Akron had landed safely in Holland Monday night.

STREET CAR HITS FIRE TRUCK AND KILLS MAN

Superior—(P)—When a fire truck answering a call was sidetracked by a street car here Monday night, the assistant truck driver standing on the running board was crushed. He died Tuesday morning from a double fracture of the skull. He is Leo McCabe, 35, married and has no children. He is a brother of John E. McCabe, Superior insurance man. McCabe was born in Glenhope in 1888. His mother lives at Eau Claire. McCabe had been a member of the Superior fire department since Jan. 1, 1912.

DRYS WILL HAVE 3 CANDIDATES FOR BADGER GOVERNOR

Madison—(P)—The prohibition party will have at least three candidates for governor in the September primary. Adolph R. Bucknam, one of the trio announced here Tuesday.

Mrs. Bucknam who was the prohibition candidate for governor in 1924, said the other candidates for the gubernatorial nomination will be David W. Emerson, Ashland, and Alexander McEathron, Holcombe.

Mrs. Ella T. Sanford, Stevens Point and Alfred B. Taynton, Madison, will be candidates for the nomination for United States senator. Mr. Bucknam said, State and congressional tickets will be announced soon he added.

Mr. Bucknam said he received favorable responses from Emerson and McEathron when he wrote to 26 men and women in search of possible candidates.

TELLS HOW CAL TRIED TO KEEP STRING ON JOB

Asks Lewis for Bjank Resignation When He Reappoints Him on Board

Washington, D. C.—(P)—Former commissioner David J. Lewis of Maryland gave the senate tariff investigating committee Tuesday his own account of the circumstances surrounding his reappointment to the tariff commission and the request that he give resignation to be used at the pleasure of the White House. The incident has been cited by those charging political manipulation within the commission and formed the basis of addresses in the senate in which the administration's tariff policies were assailed particularly by Senator Norris, Republican Nebraska.

"I was almost dumfounded and talked with Culbertson rather critically about the request," he added. "Indignation followed surprise. Culbertson expressed sympathy with my view."

VISITS PRESIDENT
"He told me the president wanted to talk with me. I went to the White House at three o'clock. The president greeted me very cordially and said he was going to reappoint me. He reached over and picked up the commission and started to sign it."

"About half way through his nature he stopped and asked me if I would let that letter. I said no. The president appeared irritated and then signed it, saying 'It doesn't matter you will hold office only at my pleasure in any event.'"

"I told him if he would hear my reasons for not signing it he might agree with my views. 'Oh no,' I wouldn't," the president replied.

"Seeing that he was irritated I told him that no one knew of his signing the commission and I told him to destroy it if he did not care to reappoint me. The president refused to do it, saying he had no intention of using the letter if he had obtained it but should they come to the perking of the ways their reputation would have been made easier."

Refusing again the services of an attorney engaged by his father, Bartlett told officers he wanted to be on his way to prison as soon as possible.

"I hate to leave the folks they need me but as far as my own life is concerned it makes no difference, I am content," he said.

Holiday Tourists Tie Up Traffic For Miles

Chicago, Ill.—(P)—The worst traffic jam in Chicago's history according to highway officials, occurred Monday when thousands of motorists out of the city for the two day holiday started the trek back in a driving rain. Northwestern highways into Wisconsin were blocked for fifty miles to the Wisconsin line. Highway policemen said and at one time the road to Joliet was linked with cars for eleven miles and so many thousands lined the roads to Aurora that hundreds were unable to attend the races there and turned back to Chicago.

Hundreds of automobile horns were turned loose by indignant motorists as a freight train had blocked a crossing on the road to Joliet for 20 minutes and the noise could be heard for miles. At one time it was estimated there were 10,000 cars lining the road between Chicago and Joliet.

Four persons, three of them small children, were killed in automobile accidents on holiday—crowded Cook County streets and roadways Monday. There were numerous accidents resulting in minor injuries the most serious being a collision of a motor bus and street car in which 13 persons were hurt.

The four fatalities increased the Cook-co. toll from auto deaths for the first five months of the year to 316, a new record.

A memorial day "honey moon" plan led by Mr. and Mrs. Michael Mozakorick of Milwaukee, ended tragically when Mrs. Mozakorick was hurled through the windshield of their car dying almost immediately from deep lacerations by broken glass. The accident occurred when the car was brought to a sudden stop.

Court Regrets That State Law Prohibits Giving Death Sentence

Muskegon, Mich.—(P)—Circuit Judge Vanderwerp Tuesday sentenced Asa K. Bartlett 25 years old, Blue Lake township constable to life imprisonment for the murder of August Krubaech, his daughter Janet and her fiancé William Frank, killed by a bomb Thursday. Judge Vanderwerp expressed regret that the state law does not provide for capital punishment.

"You should be sentenced to death," Judge Vanderwerp said, "but it is useless for me to talk to you. Maybe in later years you will realize something of the dastardly crime you have committed. The sentence is that you be confined in the state house of correction at Marquette for the rest of your life."

Bartlett was secretly arraigned shortly after 8 o'clock Tuesday morning and then was taken into circuit court. The prisoner wore his old army uniform being a world war veteran. Judge Vanderwerp talked with him in private a few minutes and then imposed sentence.

Bartlett who admitted mailing the bomb because of political enmity toward Krubaech who was township supervisor, showed no emotion and bowed politely to the judge as sentence was pronounced. He was immediately started on his trip to Marquette.

The arraignment and sentence came so early that the crowds that it had been feared might make trouble because of the strong feelings against Bartlett, had hardly begun to form.

Bartlett started two years ago to construct the bomb, which sent through the mails, caused the death last Thursday of August Krubaech, his daughter Janet, and her fiancé, William Frank. This was revealed when Bartlett's confession was made public Tuesday.

"I thought that maybe I would want to use it," Bartlett explained. "It was two years ago that township politics involved Krubaech and Bartlett in bitter opposition to each other."

SORRY OTHERS ARE KILLED
Bartlett in his confession expressed regret that the bomb killed Janet and Frank. "It was for Krubaech alone," he said.

"I conceived the idea only last Wednesday of sending the bomb through the mail and so I went to Montague and purchased the wrapper stickers and then brought the package direct to the Muskegon post-office and mailed it. The confession continued. I did not know the bomb had killed Krubaech and the other two until I was informed by the officers early Friday morning."

Refusing again the services of an attorney engaged by his father, Bartlett told officers he wanted to be on his way to prison as soon as possible.

"I hate to leave the folks they need me but as far as my own life is concerned it makes no difference, I am content," he said.

LABOR DEMAND SHOWS DECREASE IN LAST MONTH

Employment Is Curtailed About 0.7 Per Cent, Records Indicate

Chicago.—(P)—The Monthly Payroll Statistics of the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago, which will be issued June 1, will say that industrial employment in the seventh district declined slightly during the period March 15 to April 15, factories with an aggregate employment of about 385,000 workers reporting a curtailment of 0.7 per cent.

The metals and metal products group, after a continued expansion since last July, reduced its forces 0.5 per cent.

Substantial reductions were made in the textiles, food and leather groups, in which many losses of a seasonal nature were shown by particular industries. Counteracting these losses, however, were the further gains reported for the "chemical" group and for many of the building materials, stone and cement products added to their employment by lumber and most wood products showed some decline.

Total payrolls for all of the reporting industries were placed by the bank at a month's decline amounting to only 0.1 per cent.

An increasing demand for labor in construction work and outdoor employment generally has produced a large number of unemployed men.

Savings—Over half the reporting banks in this district registered increases during April in savings deposits, a fact that is a whole-hearted endorsement of the group as a whole averaged a gain of 0.8 per cent over April 1, although still 2.3 percent below the January 1 peak.

The number of accounts dropped 0.1 per cent during April, increases in Iowa and Wisconsin being offset by declines in the three other states. All five states, including Illinois, Indiana and Michigan, contributed to the gain of 0.2 per cent over a year ago.

Preliminary statistics for April indicate production of passenger cars in the United States during the month was only slightly less than the record output of March. Output of trucks in April was heavier than in the preceding month and also increased in the year-to-year comparison, 1924.

Continued increases were reported in the distribution of automobiles in the Middle West, both wholesale and retail sales showing gains over the prior month and a year ago. For the first time since the end of November, a reduction took place in the stocks of new cars held at the end of the month. Although inventories remain considerably higher than in 1925, deferred payment sales as reported by twenty-nine firms were 46.1 per cent of the total retail sales compared with a ratio of 47.9 shown in these identical firms in March and one of 44.5 in April last year.

Shoe factories in the Seventh district operated at a seasonable lower rate during April than in March with the output under a year ago and with shipments 4.7 percent in excess of April production. Unfilled orders gave assurance of about six weeks' future production at the current rate according to a tabulation for twenty-two companies.

NEED 100 CARS FOR SIGHTSEEING TOUR

Persons in charge of entertainment for the Wisconsin Odd Fellows Convention now in session here would like to get in touch with Appleton citizens who would be willing to donate the use of their cars for an hour's sightseeing trip for the visiting delegates Wednesday afternoon. The trip will start at 1 o'clock. About 100 cars are needed to provide for the transportation of delegates and visitors in the city. Those willing to offer cars for the tour are to call Appleton Chamber of Commerce.

SAENGERFEST WORKERS HOLD MEETING TONIGHT

The general committee in charge of arrangements for the Saengerfest to be held here July 15, 17 and 18 will hold a meeting at 8 o'clock Tuesday evening at Eggert hotel. Reports of sub-committees will be heard. The Maennerchor will hold a rehearsal at Gil Myse hall Wednesday evening. Men and women of the club will practice on Thursday evening.

FIND POOR ROADS ON RURAL ROUTES HERE

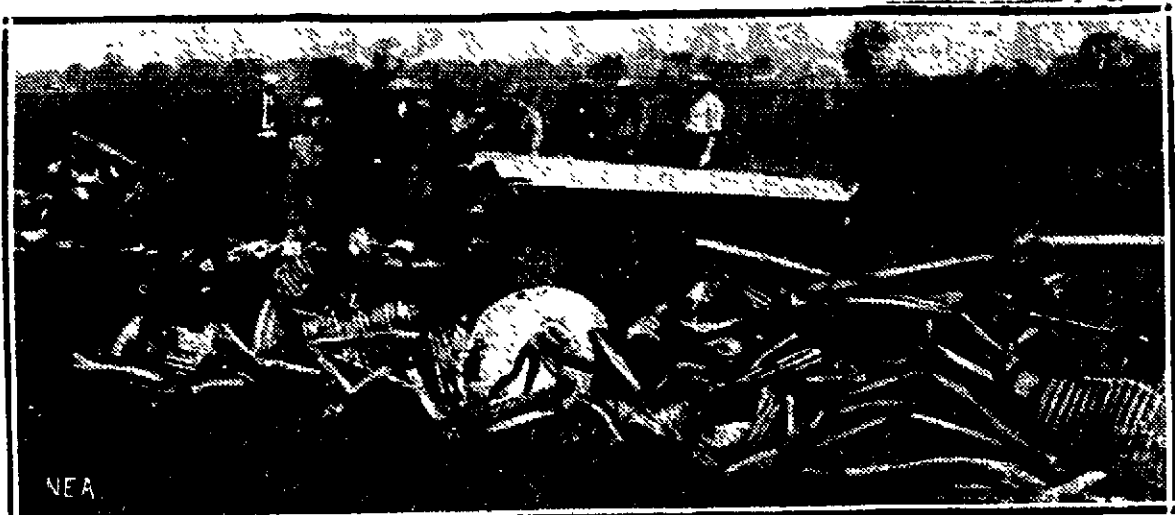

All but two Appleton rural routes have been inspected for road conditions, location of boxes, mileage, etc., according to Postmaster William H. Zuchlik. In general, he declared, conditions are improving year by year, but several bad pieces of road still exist on one or two routes. The inspection will be completed before the end of the week.

Chief Governmental Ill Is Congress, Says Thomas

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Washington.—What is wrong with the government? "Congress," answers Congressman Elmer Thomas of Oklahoma.

Then, while thousands of critical fellow-citizens are agreeing with him, he puts the reverse English on his diagnosis by objecting that there is too little of Congress in the government rather than too much. He believes that Congress, as the people own chosen right arm as the hope of the nation.

"But Congress is the greatest huckstering institution on earth," says Thomas.

GOVERNING BY BUREAUS

"When there is hard work or a new problem ahead does Congress tackle the job itself? Certainly not. It creates a bureau or board or commission and delegates to it some of its own vital authority. The present session promises to add half a dozen extra bureaus. We are getting a government in bureaus instead of by the people."

Thomas' conversation in truth and in fact is more than just a western congressman attracting attention to himself. It is the conviction of one who has taken part actively in public life over since he made speeches as a 16-year-old schoolboy in the free silver campaign of '84. It is disquieting here the rather gloomy resolution he introduced recently to investigate the government.

He proposes in brief, that a committee consider the present mood of

DAILY VACATION BIBLE SCHOOL TO OPEN ON JUNE 7

Miss Stevens Will Be in Charge of Classes at Congregational Church

The Daily Vacation Bible school of the first congregational church will open June 7 with an enrollment of approximately 100 students. Session will be held every school day from 10:30 to 11:30. Miss Mary B. Stevens, secretary of the church who is to have charge will be assisted by a staff of 11 teachers. All classes will be held in the Sunday school rooms of the church. The school will be in session four weeks and will close June 22.

The school will be open to children of the primary and junior departments of the Sunday school, or of children between the ages of 6 and 12. Registrations are being taken by Mrs. Carl Daker, superintendent of the primary department, and by Lacey Horton, superintendent of the junior department.

Schoolwork will consist of graded work, story hours, with the teacher and pupils telling Bible and missionary stories. Hymn interpretation also will be studied. Handwork periods will be one of the features of the school. This work will comprise the making of jigsaws, sewing, basketry, making dolls, scrap books, blotters and permanent maps. Supervised play, Bible study and the dramatization of Bible stories also will be a part of the school work.

Swimming classes for students will be conducted at the Y. M. C. A. swimming pool. This part of the program is an experiment and is being tried for the first time.

Field trips will be taken once a week to enable the children to study various subjects close at hand. One trip will probably be made to the woods and the study of trees and plants will be taken up. Another trip will be made to several factories in the city.

5 APPLETONIANS GET ALL-COLLEGE OFFICES

Five Appleton students were elected to offices in Lawrence's All-College club as a result of a vote taken among the student body. Helen Didrich was chosen vice president of the organization. Mary Reeve was elected secretary. Ray Eide will be student representative to the Forensic board, Harold Biese will be student football representative, and Don Hyde will be track representative.

Other All-College officers elected at the same time are Harry Snyder, Farmington, Minn., president, George Niederl, Elgin, Ill., treasurer, Veine Grove, Neenah, basketball representative.

Appleton students also won two other offices in the class election. Wilma Thiede being chosen vice president of the senior class and Burton Manser was elected treasurer of the same class.

BAND CONCERT DELIGHTS OLD SOLDIERS HOME

Appleton Band and Guardsmen Present Interesting Program at Waupaca

"One of the finest things that has happened at the home for some time" was the way Colonel John Turner, governor of the Soldier's home at Waupaca, described the concert by the 120th Field Artillery band, under the direction of Edward F. Mumm, Sunday afternoon.

Members of Co. D, 127th Infantry presented a guard mount during the concert. The program was held at the park of the home and during the intermission the band marched to the hospital and played a short program for the shut-in veterans. Several solos were sung by Miss Isabel Wilcox and Miss Jeannette Cameron danced as an added attraction.

L. Hugo Keller, past state commander of the legion opened the program with a short address.

Appleton organizations cooperating in the entertainment were Oney Johnston post of the Legion, Elks and George Eggleston post of the G. A. R. A big crowd of Appleton people made the trip to Waupaca and spent the day there.

EXPECT LARGER ATTENDANCE AT SCHOOL IN 1926

High School Authorities Anticipate Increase of Almost 100

Present figures indicate that the enrollment in Appleton high school next fall will be 838 students an increase of 88 over the number the past year. Roosevelt junior high school with 169 students completing courses in the ninth grade will send the largest number, while Wilson junior high with 168 will be a close second. Twenty-nine students will enter from McKinley junior school.

Public schools will close June 4. Contrary to the custom of former years there will be no commencement exercises in any of the city public schools except the senior high school. School authorities feel that with the inauguration of the junior high school system it would be unwise to have any formal graduation in any of the elementary schools. They feel there will be more of an incentive for the students to complete their public school education if they have but one diploma to work for and that from the senior high school. It is thought that a high school diploma will mean more to the student if it is not preceded with two others one from the grade school and one from the junior high.

The junior high schools will receive 211 students who have completed sixth grade education in the elementary grade schools and also a number from the parochial schools. The number of children finishing their education in the seven public grade schools are: First Ward 58, Lincoln 22, Columbus 23, Franklin 23, Jefferson 32, Washington 32, McKinley 23.

About 70 students will graduate from St. Joseph's school June 15. The Sacred Heart school commencement exercises will be held Sunday evening at which time a class of 16 will be graduated. St. Mary's school will close June 17 and will have a class of 34 graduates. The Zion school will close June 4 and will graduate 16 children while St. Paul school will finish its year June 7 and will graduate 29 students.

"KENTUCKS" USE OLD ANGLO-SAXON WORDS

Lexington, Ky. —(AP)— While new words are being added to the dictionary here are some of the old Anglo-Saxon words of Chaucer's day used by the Kentucky mountain folk today.

Ambere—tobacco juice.
Ciphern—snooping. If a "fur riner" goes "ciphern about" up in the hills he is not making mathematical calculations but snooping perhaps too closely into other persons' business and probably will be taken for a "revenoer."

Farnint—opposite.
Gyarbro—reincarnation of Old Scratch himself as "the man is as mean as old Gyarbro himself."

Kiver—cover.
Yeth—earth.
Yeebin—If someone is "yeebin at ye" you know you are not only being looked at but laughed at.

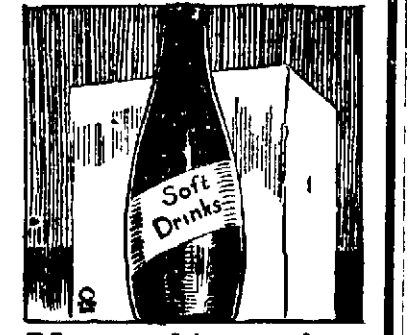

A lad is "old man Jones" boy not his son. "When he grows up, he is an 'ol' man Jones' still." And if very slender, "Banjer-Shanks."

A young woman may be some man's "old woman" providing they are not divorced—and to use a common expression so the "old man."

APPLETON YOUNG MAN HONORED AS EDITOR

Stephen A. Konz, literary editor of the Championette, a bi-weekly news paper edited by students of Champion college was praised for his excellent work on the paper in an article which appeared in a late issue of the publication. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Konz, 606 N. Oneida-st.

Four issues of the Championette were entered in the All American newspaper contest held by the Central Intercollegiate Press association at Madison. When the contest closed the Championette was placed in the All American class which is the highest grade a paper can reach.

Students Of Oak Park School Publish Annual

"Two miles south of New London on the County Line road, near picturesque hills, stands the Oak Park school. Unlike others of its kind, it is not of the slumbering class, but of the most wide awake. To the south can be seen the beautiful limestone ledge and to the north stands a beautiful hill supreme in its own solitude."

Those persons who have seen The Oak Park Annual must agree that the pupils are "of the most wide-awake in Outagamie-co. Every word in the annual, which is about 50 pages is written out in longhand. It is full of pictures, but these are photographs and not prints from "cuts." Pages are about eight inches wide and six inches high and are inserted on the loose-leaf principle between two thick cardboard covers so that pupils may add to the book of their choice.

The annual is dedicated to the school board. Following pages contain much the same greetings and pictures which are to be found in annuals of small high schools, including a photograph of the teacher Miss Edna Starfeldt and pictures of the fifteen pupils of the school.

So Fast

Cook a hot breakfast now in 3 to 5 minutes

QUICK QUAKER cooks in less time than it takes you to prepare plain toast. That means a hot, nourishing breakfast in a hurry. It means an excellently balanced ration; combining protein, carbohydrates and vitamins—plus the "bulk" to make laxatives less often needed—cooked and served without muss or bother.

Why go on with less nourishing foods? Quaker Oats and milk is the dietetic urge of today. Start every day that way.

Your grocer has Quick Quaker—also Quaker Oats as you have always known them.

AMATEURS EAGER FOR CHAIR PART

Every Newcomer in Movies Is Hopeful of Securing This Recognition

Hollywood, Calif. —(AP)— A "chair part" is something for which every newcomer in the movies hopes. It means that the actor so distinguished is gaining recognition and with continued progress may become a star.

A chair part is so called because when the player arrives on the set he or she is given a portable chair. The name of the actor is inscribed upon the chair and no one else is allowed to occupy it.

Hundreds of persons have worked before the camera many years without reaching a "chair part". On the other hand there are occasional quick successes.

When Doris Hill arrived on the set to play the leading role opposite Syd Chaplin in "The Better Ole", now in production, she had never before appeared before the camera and had experienced only six months work as a dancer in theater pialogues.

Chaplin and his director arranged a ceremony for presenting her with the chair which costs two dollars but means so much in the ranking of players.

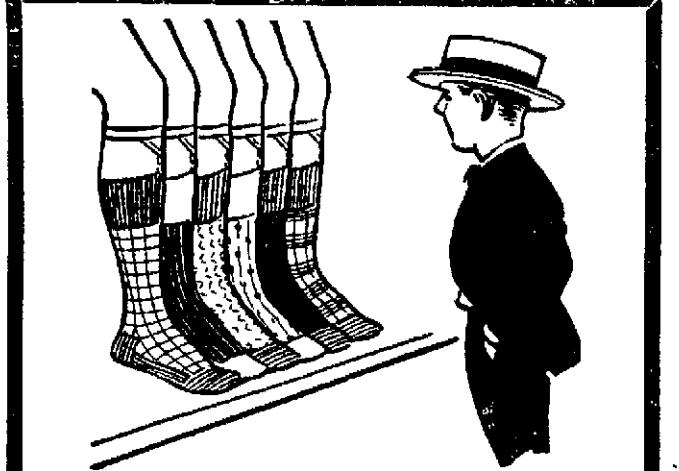

PLAGUE IS STAMPED OUT

When several cases of plague recalling the deadly scourges of historical nature occurred recently at Lagos in Nigeria, the prompt action of the governor checked its spread. This official had all cases isolated. Three cases were found and all three victims died.

Class officers a literary society, athletics—the school has even a cheerleader—jokes, history of the school and numerous original poems fill the greater part of the annuals. The most popular, handsome mischievous and studious girls and boys as well as the most artistic pupil are also listed.

The Oak Park Annual is the first of its kind which has come to the attention of the county superintendent of schools, according to Miss Nellie McDermott, supervising teacher. Each annual is a duplication of the other.

It keeps you young in looks and spirit—ENZO JELI for a dessert ad.

Cloverleaf Troop Wins Track Meet

In an exciting track and field meet in which every event was hotly contested the Cloverleaf troop of girl scouts of Appleton Womens club piled up 75 points and walked off with first honors in the annual scout troop and Campfire girls field day contest Saturday afternoon, breaking the winning streak of the Shamrock troops, which has finished in first place for the last four years. The meet was started in Jones park, but the rain made it necessary to finish in the high school gymnasium.

After the meet the Shamrock troop, which placed second with 65 points, presented the banner to the winning Cloverleaf group. Beaver and Florence Nightingale troops were tied for third place with 40 points apiece. The Cloverleafs placed first in the running broad jump and one of the high jump events. They also took second in the 50 yard dash and a third in one of the basketball throw events.

The results:
50 yard dash — Elizabeth Long, Shamrock, first; Winifred Ek, Cloverleaf, second; Dorothy Davis, Campfire, third.

Running high jump (five feet and under) — Wilhelmine Meyer, Cloverleaf, first; Audrey Reider, Silver Fox, second; Wilhelmine Harms, Blue Bell, third.

Running high jump (five feet and over) — Lucille Kranhold, Beaver, first; Alma Dumke, Florence Nightingale, second; Effie Arps, Pansy, third.

Running broad jump — Anna Grieshaber, Cloverleaf, first; Blue Bell, second; Alma Dumke, Florence Nightingale, third.

Basketball throw for accuracy (group No. 1) — Blue Bell, Shamrock, first; Deallia Davidson, Florence Nightingale, second; Estella Sharnmann, Rainbow, third.

Basketball throw for accuracy (group No. 2) — Helena Boelcher, Campfire, first; Grace Sanders, Beaver, second; Orleta Wettengel, Cloverleaf, third.

The Campfire group, Rainbow and Blue Bell scout troops were tied for attendance honors, having all but one member present. They drew lots for the attendance prize and the Rainbow troop was the winner. The Rainbow troop also won the scout and campfire question contest.

BOAT EXCURSION IN MOONLIGHT PICNIC FEATURE

Hi-Y club boys will entertain their ladies at a moonlight picnic Friday night at the feature of its annual picnic. A committee composed of Frank Harriman, Arthur Smith and John W. Pugh, club leader, went to Neenah Tuesday to rent a river boat for the occasion. The picnic will be the final get-together of the present club as many of its members graduate this week. William Meyer is in charge of the entertainment.

PARTIES

A dancing party for members and friends will be given by the Columbian club of St. Mary church at 8 o'clock Wednesday night at Columbia hall. The Melorimba orchestra will furnish music.

The annual banquet of Lady Eagles will be held at 5:30 Wednesday at Hotel Northern. Cards will be played during the afternoon. Officers of the club are in charge of the meeting.

Members of the Wednesday Musicians will be entertained at a 1 o'clock luncheon at Stein's at Oskosh Wednesday. Bridge will be played following the luncheon. Hostesses will be Mrs. E. C. Gieseler, Mrs. Mildred Boelcher, Mrs. E. P. Dougherty, Mrs. R. W. Klotzsch, Miss Ann Thomas, and Miss Maude Harwood.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Doerfler, 120 S. State-st., entertained at a dinner Sunday evening in honor of their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary which occurred Friday. Cards and music were the chief diversions of the evening. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Schweitzer, Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Schweitzer and children, Mr. and Mrs. Leo H. Rechner, Miss Mayme Schweitzer, Miss Florence Benoit and Miss Loretta Piquet of Appleton and Mrs. P. T. Woolley of La Crosse.

Mr. and Mrs. William Krueger, 1214 N. Oregon-st., entertained a number of relatives and friends Sunday in honor of their twentieth wedding anniversary. The guests were Mrs. Laura Otto, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Keucker and family, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Braunel and family, Mr. and Mrs. William Bowles and Mr. and Mrs. A. Otto of Manitowish, Mr. and Mrs. Julius Radtke and family and Mr. and Mrs. John Otto of Appleton.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Kohl, route 2, entertained at a dinner Sunday. Those present were Herman and Nestor Smith, Mr. and Mrs. William Baudette, Miss Anna Pitch, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Knute and son of Wisconsin Rapids.

Miss Lola Schultz entertained 25 friends at a surprise party Friday evening in honor of Miss Olea Radtke. Games and music and dancing furnished entertainment for the evening. Among the guests were Beatrice Kozietke, Odelle Welland, Gertrude Nussbaum, Rose Radtke, Mariena Schultz, Clara and Regina Seaman, Mable Rohm, Lola Schultz, Olga Radtke, Larry Selig, Elmer Koffenbecker, George Wolfgram, Leonard and Ray Nussbaum, T. The tall bridegroom is 28, the son of United States Senator William Cabell Bruce of Maryland.

Meet Friday To Report On Club Work

Achievement day for clothing groups of the county extension club in Outagamie county will be held Friday, June 4 at the Playhouse of Appleton Womens club. The program will begin promptly at 10 o'clock Friday morning.

Achievement day is the climax of a series of meetings of four groups with Miss Melchior of the College of Agriculture at Madison. The groups met with Miss Melchior each month. Clothing, its qualities and the making of dress forms and patterns was discussed.

Each group is to report the work accomplished by its members during the last six months and a short play or stunt will be given after the report of each group. The county groups were located at Mackville, Hortonville, Shiocton and Black Creek.

Miss Marie Klein, county nurse, will give a short survey of her work in the county during the past year and R. A. Amundson, county agricultural agent, is to give a chalk talk. Miss Gladys Stillman, nutrition specialist from Madison, will give a food demonstration of summer salads and desserts. All women in the county are invited to attend the meeting. A lunch will be served at noon by members of the Appleton Womens club.

SEND FOLDERS ON CAMP FOR GIRLS

Folders on Camp Onaway, Womens club girl scout camp at the Waupaca Chain of Lakes are being printed and will be mailed this week to parents of scouts and other girls from 10 to 15 years of age who might be interested in attending the camp. Persons desiring detailed information about Camp Onaway may call the womens club and folders will be mailed to them.

The dates for this year's camp are from July 31 to August 14. Mrs. Herbert Hackworthy will be camp director. Girl scouts will be given preference in the enrollment for Camp Onaway but if a full quota of scouts is not secured any other girl in the city may enroll.

CHURCH SOCIETIES

A monthly meeting of the Ladies society of St. Paul church will be held Thursday afternoon at St. Paul school. Matters of routine business will be taken up.

The Ladies Aid society of Mt. Olive Lutheran church is to meet at 2:30 Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ida Knoke, 327 N. Linwood-ave. A short business meeting will be held after which there will be a picnic social.

Circle No. 13 of the Congregational church will meet at 2:30 Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Edward Zeh at Greenville. Cars will be provided to take the members to Mrs. Zeh's home.

The last meeting of Zion Lutheran Mission society will be held at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at Zion school. The committee consists of Mrs. Julius Radtke, Mrs. Frank Rubbert, Mrs. Otto Rosenberg, Mrs. Harold Schultz and Mrs. Henry Staedt.

Household Hints

TEST FOR FRESHNESS
When the shell of a hulled egg dries immediately on coming out of the water you may be reasonably sure that you have a strictly fresh product.

KEEP'S MUSTARD MOIST
Add a little salt to your home-made mustard and it will not become caked and dry in the mustard pot.

WOOD PREFERRED
For mixing cake batter a wooden spoon is said to be vastly superior to metal.

TARNISHED SILVER
Tarnished silver is quickly restored to its natural state if you clean it with a piece of raw potato dipped in baking soda.

AVOID TARNISH
If silver is to be packed away for some time, store it in dry flour and when you take it out it will be untarnished.

REMOVES GREASE
When grease is spilled on the rug, cover with a piece of blotting paper and put a warm iron over the spot. The paper will quickly absorb the grease.

CLEANING MOP
An oil mop may be very satisfactorily cleaned by washing in hot water to which ammonia and a little washing powder have been added.

VINEGAR CLEANS
When the nickel on the kitchen stove has turned black from heat, rub with a cloth dipped in vinegar and the blackness will disappear.

FOR ENAMEL PANS
When enameled ware is discolored, clean it with a paste made of salt and vinegar.

CLEANING PORCELAIN
Common baking soda, applied with a damp cloth is one of the most effective ways of cleaning the bath tub.

ON YOUR SUIT
The grease that sometimes shows itself on coat collars may be removed by a brush dampened with water in which salt has been dissolved.

OVER SHE GOES!

FASHION HINTS

SMARTLY TAILORED
A pleated jabot gives a very softening line to the white crepe de chine blouse. One often finds, too, a pleasing outlining the peplum of the blouse.

TRULY FEMININE
Peach-colored organdie makes a charming bouffant frock and is trimmed with white embroidery and a sash of blue ribbon.

IT'S DIFFERENT
The plaid taffeta frock, veiled in black chiffon, makes an unusually smart outfit for afternoon.

FOR SPORT WEAR
Crocheted silk topcoat in softly blended shades of peach, brown, apricot and blue are very new.

MASCULINE TOGS
The wide girdle, which gives the effect of a waistcoat, made of white, pique or satin is very charming with the dark wool suit.

LIGHT AND AIRY
White organdie, pleated or embroidered, is the most popular fabric for vestees and collars at the moment.

BLACK AND PINK
For evening wear, nothing is more up to the minute than black lace over pink chiffon. Tulle, too, in black, over a light foundation is extremely chic.

SISTER Mary's KITCHEN

BY SISTER MARY

Breakfast—Stewed prunes, cereal, thin cream, poached eggs on rice, crisp whole wheat toast, milk, coffee.
Luncheon—Tomato chowder, croquettes, cottage cheese sandwiches, cottage pudding with strawberry sauce, milk, tea.

Dinner—Cream of onion soup, veal croquettes, scalloped potatoes, buttered spinach, romaine salad, whole wheat bread, rhubarb bombe, sponge cake, milk, coffee.

This is a delicious, inexpensive dinner menu that might all be planned for guests. The veal croquettes are baked rather than fried in deep fat. If preferred a fruit cup can be used in place of the soup suggested, but as the meat is light, the soup really adds nourishment and is needed.

RHUBARB BOMBE
Two pounds rhubarb, 1 cup water, 2 cups granulated sugar, 1 egg white, 1-2 cup powdered sugar, 1 cup whipping cream, 1-2 teaspoon vanilla.
Wash rhubarb but do not skin. Cut into inch lengths. Put rhubarb, water and granulated sugar into a baking dish with a close fitting cover and bake about 3 hours in a slow oven. When rhubarb is tender and the juice is clear strain through cheesecloth. There should be about 4 cups of syrup. When cold turn into freezer and freeze like any water ice. When well frozen line a melon mold which has been thoroughly chilled, with the frozen mixture, making the ice about an inch thick. Fill the mold with the cream mixture and cover with remaining ice. The mold should be firmly packed and filled "full." Cover with a piece of heavy waxed paper and adjust cover of mold. Pack in four parts of ice to one of ice cream salt and let stand two or more hours.

To make the filling beat the white of eggs until stiff and dry and beat in half the powdered sugar. Whip cream until thick, adding remaining sugar and vanilla. Combine whipping cream and white of egg mixture. Chill thoroughly but do not freeze before using as filling.
These proportions will fill a three-pint melon mold. The mold can be packed in a wooden pail, large dish pan or small tub.

Patriotic Organizations Co-operate to Honor Memories of Soldiers

"H. M. S. Pinafore" to Be Presented to Big Crowd Tuesday Night

Kaukauna—The nation's heroic dead were remembered in Kaukauna by impressive memorial services Monday morning. The local post of the American Legion had charge of the services. At 8 o'clock members of the G. A. R., Women's Relief Corps, American Legion, Legion Auxiliary and Boy Scouts gathered at the Legion building to make their yearly pilgrimage to the city's cemeteries. Enough cars were provided by townspeople so that all of the members of the organizations could ride. The procession went first to the Union cemetery where the graves of the veterans were decorated. Short services were held at each grave. The organizations then went to the St. Mary, Holy Cross, Kelo and Lutheran cemeteries in succession, holding the same ceremonies at each one.

While crossing the Lawe-st bridge the procession paused to honor the heroic dead and a wreath and flowers were placed in the water.

The Rev. W. F. Huilen spoke to the veterans at Memorial park. William Ashe, Jr., delivered Lincoln's Gettysburg address. The G. A. R. and the W. R. C. held short services at the foot of the monument. The surviving members of the Paul H. Beaulieu post of the Grand Army of the Republic attended the services.

Shortly after 11 o'clock the organizations met at the high school. Here the flag pole recently given to the school by the graduating class of 1925 was presented to the school by the vice president of the class, Armand Licht. The pole was accepted by the president of the class of 1926, Leo Schmalz.

Archie Crevierre, representing the American Legion, presented a flag to the school and it was accepted by Superintendent James Cavanaugh in behalf of the school.

Music was furnished by the high school orchestra.

MANY BIRDS LOST IN LONG PIGEON RACE

Kaukauna—A most disastrous race was flown Sunday by members of the Kaukauna Pigeon club. Many birds were lost in the race because the birds that had been shipped to, released the birds at 1:12 in the afternoon. The birds did not reach Kaukauna by nightfall and consequently some of them did not come back at all. The birds were supposed to have been released at 7 o'clock in the morning, but the crate containing the pigeons did not reach the city until 1 o'clock in the afternoon, according to a telegram from Fairbairn.

One of Clifford Brand's birds was the first to arrive. His bird timed in at 5:23 Monday morning. Leo Haasly was second. His bird reached the loft at 5:55. Roland brothers of Appleton was third; Robert Bernard, fourth and another bird belonging to Roland brothers came in fifth. Prizes were awarded to the winners of the first three places. The next race will be from the 400 mile station.

EXCAVATIONS REVEAL OLD FILIPINO CULTURE

Manila, P. I. —(AP)— Discoveries showing the customs and culture of the Filipinos of 700 years ago have been made in the excavations for the Novallches Dam. They include old bits of pottery of curious design, weapons, beads, bits of opal, old gold, jade, spate and glazed utensils.

Prof. H. O. Beyer, ethnologist and anthropologist of the University of the Philippines, said that the theory that the Filipinos in Pre-Spanish times had a high degree of culture was again confirmed by the discoveries.

STAGE AND SCREEN

HILLBOARD POSTERS PRESERVE WALLPAPER, COMEDIAN EXPLAINS

An original use for billboard posters when they happen to show the head of a beautiful girl set forth in Harry Langdon's new comedy, "Tramp, Tramp, Tramp," showing at the Elite Theatre 1st times today.

Harry falls in love with the face of a billboard girl. He is so smitten that he plasters the wall with the posters. These measure about six feet high and very quaintly decorate his room.

The comedian advises this procedure even where the person is not in love. He explains that the posters save the wallpaper.

"Tramp, Tramp, Tramp," is an original story by Langdon.

Harry Edwards who has been associated with the moon faced comedian since the days of his short comedies. The cast includes Joan Crawford, Edward Davis, Tom Murray, Alec Francis and Brooks Benedict.

"Tramp, Tramp, Tramp" is the first of the feature length comedies that Langdon will make for First National under the terms of his recent contract with the organization.

MAY BUCKLEY INTRODUCES NEW TYPE OF STAGE MOTHER IN "PIGS"

Tradition has received another setback at the hands of John Golden in the selection of May Buckley for the role of Mrs. Thomas Atkins, the mother whose sympathetic understanding of the two impetuous, strong-willed sons contribute to the heart-warming qualities of "Pigs," the comic romance of youth which comes to the Appleton Theatre for one night only Wednesday, June 9th.

Par from being the solid, matronly type of actress that is usually cast for stage mothers and aunts, Miss Buckley is slender and vivacious. Just a suggestion of silver at the temples establishes her in the play as a modern mother in whom the spirit of youth has not been dulled by the cares of rearing her two boys and when they come to her with their problems of adolescent love, they find a sympathetic and gentle counselor. Realizing that the mother must be played with unusual deftness and charm, Mr. Golden went beyond the field of character players and after long argument, persuaded Miss Buckley to accept the part. The prospect of whitening her hair and otherwise borrowing years to fit the requirements of the role was not alluring but now, after more than a year in "Pigs," she feels that she has reached the pinnacle of her professional career.

Of those who have seen the play, few will forget the scene in the second act in which Wallace Ford, as Junior, Atkins, kneels at his mother's chair and pours out a tale of discouragement and thwarted ambition. There is a thrill of golden mother love in her voice when she tells him, with a gentle stroke of his brow, that he is "the most wonderful boy in the world" and when she gives him her engagement ring, to be converted into a bankroll for a business venture that the rest of the family have ridiculed as a boy's whim, one feels a sudden tightening in the neighborhood of the Adam's apple. A hush settles over the audience to be broken an instant later by the fall of the curtain and a roar of applause.

POOR BUT PROUD: HE'S "A SOCIAL CELEBRITY"

Imagine a situation like this. Adolph Menjou in his latest picture for Paramount, "A Social Celebrity," which starts today at the Fischer's Appleton Theatre, enacts the part of a small town barber who arrives in New York, and invests his whole fortune in an outfit of smart clothes.

LEMON JUICE BEST TO WHITEN SKIN

The only harmless way to bleach the skin white is to mix the juice of two lemons with three ounces of Orchard White, which any druggist will supply for a few cents. Shake well in a bottle and you will have a whole quart of the most wonderful skin whitener, softener and beautifier.

Massage this sweetly fragrant lemon bleach into the face, neck, arms and hands. It can not irritate. Famous stage beauties use it to bring that clear, youthful skin and rosy-white complexion; also as a freckle, sunburn and tan bleach. You must mix this remarkable lotion yourself. It can not be bought ready to use because it acts best immediately after it is prepared.

Episode two shows our hero at the apartment of a society youth, who is very much impressed when he sees the sprucely clad gentleman who has arrived to share him. Thinking to amuse himself, he persuades Menjou to pose as a foreign Count "just for tonight." So, much against his better judgment, he is presented at a society function as Count Havare de Maxin. He then proceeds to fall in love with the most beautiful girl in the room. And she doesn't try to discourage his attentions. With the passing of time, he gets deeper and deeper into the social swamp.

What can possibly happen to save him? What would you do if you were in his boots? Interesting and amusing, isn't it?

That's the basic theme around which "A Social Celebrity" is built. Adolph Menjou was the finest role of his career; and is surrounded with an excellent cast headed by Chester Conklin and Louise Brooks.

Also Comedy, News Scenic and organology.

RIN-TIN-TIN'S LATEST ONE OF SEASON'S BEST

"The Clash of the Wolves," the Warner Bros. Classic of the Screen at the New Bijou today and Wednesday engagement, is a Charles A. Logue story of the cattle country of the Sierras and was written especially for its star, Rin-Tin-Tin, the popular dog actor.

Lobo, leader of the wolf pack, is driven down from the forests by a terrifying fire and because of the danger to the cattle and ranchers, a price is put upon his head. Young David Weston (Charles Farrell), while working on his borax claim, extracts a thorn from the wolf's foot, and Lobo becomes his staunch friend and protector.

"The Clash of the Wolves" is a stirring melodrama of the wolves in the Southwest cattle lands. Rin-Tin-Tin appears as the leader of the pack of wolves. His supporting cast of humans includes June Marlowe, Charles Farrell, Pat Hartigan, Heinie Conklin, and Will Walling.

U.S. TO LEARN WHAT FARMER WANTS OVER RADIO

WILL INTRODUCE FARMERS' RADIO SCHOOL IN FALL

Pickard Leaves on 10,000 Mile Tour of Farming Country East of Rockies

Washington - S. M. Pickard, chief of the radio farm service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, will crank his automobile and head southward around the first of "most to be" in practically every state east of the Rockies. He expects to travel about 10,000 miles on this trip which will require about three months.

The first Monday of October will mark the introduction of the U. S. Farm Radio School, sponsored by the U. S. Department of Agriculture under the direction of Pickard.

"I plan to talk with at least 100 farmers before I return to Washington," Pickard says, "so I can receive first hand impressions of what they are thinking about what information they need and how the Department of Agriculture can best serve them."

PERSONAL TALKS
For three months Pickard will devote his time to the farmers, stopping his car along the route of visit to corn of other grain and cotton fields, listening to their problems and all the time registering impressions of how he can effectively reach 1,000,000 farmers by radio broadcasting the latest and most useful agricultural information.

"Heartened by the enthusiastic response from farmers as a result of our three months' experiment in broadcasting a government farm service this spring," Pickard says, "we have tentatively outlined a comprehensive program for the fall and winter months. It includes a dozen special features each designed to interest and help the farmer help himself."

"The achievement of almost instant communication of pertinent information to the farmer is one of the most effective accomplishments of the modern century. Yet only the fringe of the real possibilities has been touched."

FARM PROGRAMS
"Today about 60 per cent of the nation's population is on farms and in towns of less than 5,000 inhabitants. This group while primarily interested in radio programs of entertainment, has expressed its interest in information which will be of practical use. Each day at least 10 per cent of these programs to broadcast important farm information."

"The first organized effort on the part of the United States Department of Agriculture to reach every corner of this country by radio with general farming information was made on February 15, 1924, when a few experimental features were sent to numerous broadcasting stations. This effort was so successful that the department is now launching a more comprehensive program for all per sons interested in agriculture."

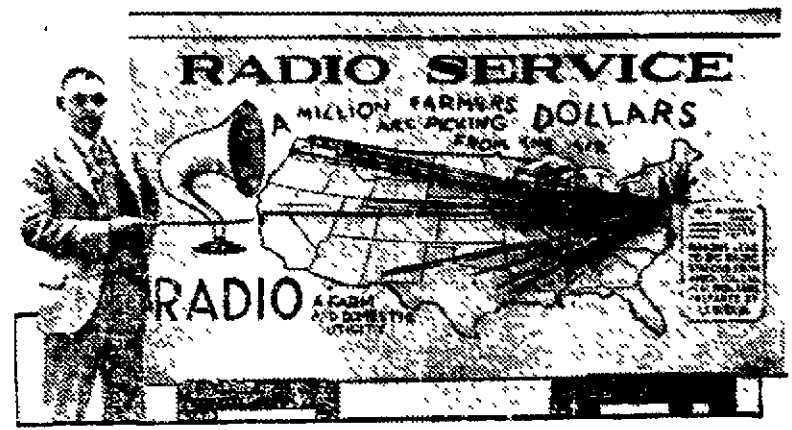

GOOD FARM LANDS ARE SOLD CHEAP
New York Offers Excellent Opportunity for Small Investor

New York - The wholesale dairy regions of New York offer an opportunity for development for the small investor, says Professor J. R. Abbott, writing in the Dairyman's League News.

Settled farm land and developed communities can be had at a low rate, according to Professor J. R. Abbott. Competition by western dairymen who were able to over-whelm the market with their prod-ucts has caused the eastern dairy land to slump in value.

Scientific and intelligent farming on the old dairy lands could not only make them self-supporting but profitable.

RADIO WILL AID FARMERS

S. M. Pickard, chief of the radio farm service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, is showing an announcement of the Radio Farm School which will go on the air the first Monday in October.

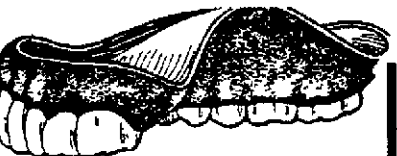

Know Quality Of Seed When Buying Alfalfa

Before buying alfalfa seed there are three points upon which the purchaser should have information, says the United States Department of Agriculture. They are: The name of the variety, the section of the country in which it was grown, and the quality of the seed with regard to both germination and purity.

The alfalfas of this country vary in their adaptation to climatic conditions and length of day, some giving the best results in the North and Northwest whereas others succeed only in the South and Southwest. As an aid to the prospective grower of alfalfa, the United States Department of Agriculture has prepared Farmers Bulletin 1467-F, Commercial Varieties of Alfalfa. The bulletin discusses in detail the origin, adaptation, and establishment of five distinct groups and their subdivisions. The five groups are: Common Turkestan variegated, nonhardy and yellow flowered. Unfortunately, says the department, it is not possible to distinguish between the varieties or strains of alfalfa by the appearance of the seed, and the tests that have so far been developed to assist in this connection are not of much practical benefit to the farmer. It is important therefore that dealings be had only with thoroughly reliable and intelligent seedsmen and growers.

The viability of the seed or its ability to start a strong plant is clearly indicated in its appearance. Plump seed of a bright olive-green color almost invariably germinates well while shriveled seed or seed that is of a brownish color usually germinates poorly. With age alfalfa seed turns a reddish brown color. When a germination test is desired it can be made by placing 100 seeds between cloths or blotting paper and keeping them moist and at a temperature of about 70 degrees F. After five or six days most of the viable seeds will have sprouted.

With regard to the purity of alfalfa seed every farmer should be able to

BUTTER PRICES WERE IRREGULAR ALL LAST WEEK

Trade Was Active at Beginning of Week but Slowed Up Toward End

Madison - (AP) - Butter markets were irregular, but generally satisfactory last week, the Wisconsin department of market reports.

Trade was active at the beginning and several fractional price advances took place. Trade then slowed somewhat as a result of liberal receipts to sell. At the close, however, improvement was noted, marked by a fractional advance resulting from active demand. Trading on centralized car markets was fair. Prices are about 1 1/2c lower than a week ago.

Trading on the cheese markets was fair. Production during the past two weeks was lower than for the same period last year as a result of the lateness of the season and lack of rain. Prices are about three cents lower than last year at this time.

Egg prices were unchanged. Receipts for the week exceeded those of the same period last year and the storage deficiency is being made up. Prices are one cent below those of a year ago.

As a reaction against the high prices of the previous week, hog prices underwent considerable declines. Slaughter pigs suffered the greatest amount, dropping 50c. The decline on other classes ranged from 10c to 45c. Prices are about $1.50 higher than a year ago.

A more active demand caused advances in sheep prices ranging from 15c to 25c. Notwithstanding increased receipts, prices are about 80 cents lower than last year at this time.

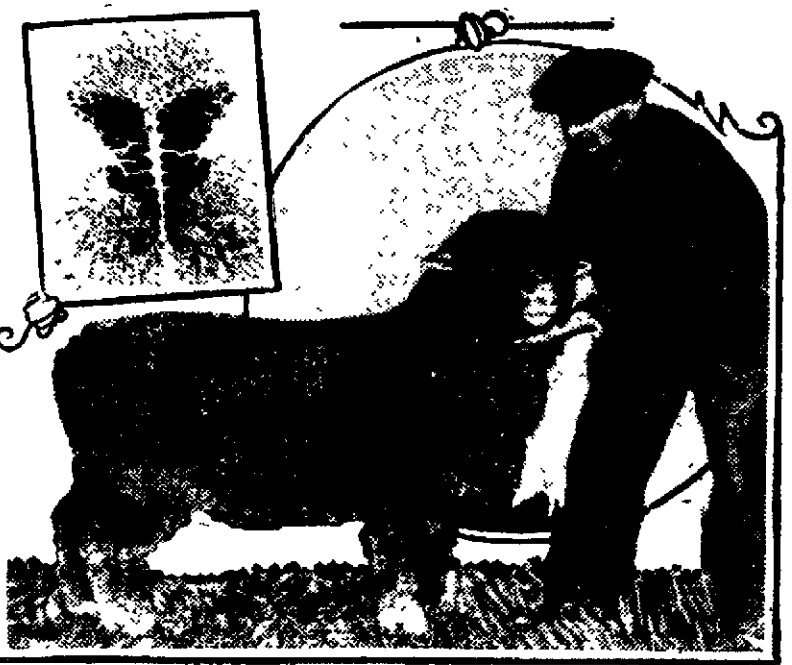

Smaller receipts and an improved demand caused advances in sheep prices ranging from 15c to 150c. California spring lambs reached $11.25 while the native spring stock sold upward to $18.50. Prices are about $2 higher than a year ago.

VARIED SOURCES OF CASH INCOME ADVISED

The most profitable farms are those which have several different sources of cash income, according to P. E. McNall of the agricultural economics department of the University of Wisconsin. "Diversification gives opportunity for producing a cash crop with practically the same labor, work stock and overhead expense that a single crop system requires," McNall points out.

SHEEP IDENTIFICATION

A sheep's nose, like a man's thumb, seems to be its own particular property, so the Michigan State College has adopted a nose printing system to identify the fleecy animals. After three years of experimenting, college specialists say there is yet to be found two sheep with similar nose lines. The print made from the animal in the picture shows what the sheep's nose print looks like.

SPRAYING TREES IS INJURIOUS TO BEES

When spraying fruit trees, care should be taken to do the work at a time when there is the least danger of poisoning the honeybees which visit the blossoms, says the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Spraying with arsenicals while fruit trees are in full bloom is particularly injurious to bees.

HOME, JAIL, TOPICS AT CHURCH MEETING

Cleveland - (AP) - Discussions on "The Problems of the Modern Home" and "The Local Jail," will feature the sixth national conference on Social Service of the Episcopal Church, here May 22 to 26. The conference precedes the sessions of the National Conference of Social Work May 26 to June 2.

Mrs. Kate Burr Jonston, North Carolina commissioner of charities and public welfare, J. R. Cass, general secretary of the Prison Association of New York, Miss Gordon Hamilton and Miss Sarah Ivens, New York School of Social Work and Miss Gertrude Valle, president of the National Conference of Social Work, are among the principal speakers.

DEVICE REMOVES SMUT FROM GRAIN

New Apparatus, Invented by Market Specialist, Is Introduced

Apparatus, called a Bates aspirator after its inventor, E. N. Bates, market specialist of the Department of Agriculture, automatically removed smut and light dockage from grain by suction as a part of the threshing operation. In this attachment the grain as it is thrown from the thrasher, even or is spread out into a thin, even stream by being directed onto a low inverted cone. The cone causes the grain to pile up and flow evenly over its edge. Suction from above draws a current of air through the thin sheet of falling grain and lifts out the light material.

Need for the removal of smut and dockage at threshing time is emphasized by the fact that there was approximately 1,239,000 bushels of dockage assessable against the 118,665,000 bushels of wheat produced in Washington, Idaho, and Oregon during a recent year. Of this dockage total approximately 764,000 bushels were of smut dockage. The department says the question of dockage has become one of the outstanding problems of the wheat belt.

A description of the apparatus and detailed methods of using it have been published in Miscellaneous Circular 56-M, "Cleaning Grain with the Bates Aspirator," copies of which may be obtained upon request to the Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

That practical joke about looking upward

YOU can't help yourself. If you see someone standing still in the street, looking upward, you bend your neck backward. You want to see too. You want to know what's going on.

That instinct is perhaps the main reason for newspapers. So you can know what's going on. Going on among your neighbors, among the people in the next state, in other lands. You want to know the news.

And that's what advertising is for, too. So you can know what's going on. So you can know the news about styles in clothing, about theories in foods, about the latest improvements in radio amplifiers or automobile engines or face creams. Wouldn't you want to know the news.

The advertising in this newspaper is here to tell you things. It is here to keep you in touch with the things that are going on. Advertisements are interesting. They are useful. They are news.

SCHOOL HEADS WIND UP WORK OF SCHOOL YEAR

Meeting of All Teachers on Sept. 6 Will Open Next Term

Discussion of the public school schedule for next year was one of the items of business taken up at the weekly meeting of principals Tuesday morning in the office of Superintendent E. J. Rohan at the Lincoln school. Hours for opening and closing the daily school sessions were discussed.

The principals were asked to impress on the teachers the importance of being in the city Sept. 6 for the faculty meeting which will mark the opening of the school year next fall. Teachers also will be asked to report at the school on Friday morning prepared to make out promotion blanks and other reports which will complete the year's work and they are not to leave the city until reports of their year's work have been accepted at the superintendent's office.

There will be no regular sessions Friday in any of the schools as the teachers will be given that day to complete their reports. Thursday will be devoted to class picnics and programs where such events have been planned. In cases where special features have not been arranged regular school sessions will be held. Students are divided into five groups in filling out the promotion blanks, according to their grades. The groups are the excellent, superior, average, inferior and failure students. All but those in the failure groups will be promoted.

PFEIL QUILTS AS POOR OFFICER

Expect Council Will Appoint
Successor at Wednesday
Night's Meeting

Appointment of a poor commissioner to succeed J. G. Pfeil, who has resigned to become full time trustee of Appleton, will be made by the common council at its regular meeting Wednesday evening. Four applications have been received for the position.

The resignation of Mr. Pfeil took effect Monday May 31, and he commenced his new duties Tuesday. His office will be located in Lincoln school. The salary of poor commissioner, which is a part time job, is $75 a month. The salary was fixed by the common council at the beginning of the year and cannot be changed until the expiration of the present term of the office. Mr. Pfeil conducted this work in conjunction with his duties as part time trustee officer. Mr. Pfeil has held the two positions for the last 12 years.

No other business of any particular importance is scheduled for consideration Wednesday night.

WRITE TO PARENTS ABOUT BOYS' CAMP AT ONAWAY

Final plans for recruiting Appleton boys for the camp sponsored by the Y M C A at Onaway Island, Waupaca from July 1 to 15, were made at a meeting of the camp committee Saturday afternoon at the association building. The camp proposition will be discussed with the luncheon clubs. It was decided and letters will be sent out to parents of Appleton boys telling about the camp. The camp will take care of 60 boys each week and if there is an insufficient number of Appleton youngsters, Green Bay boys will complete the camp roster. A large number of Green Bay youths are anxious to get into the camp. The committee decided to give Appleton boys the remainder of this week to sign up after which the camp will be thrown open to the boys from Brown-co.

WELNITZ DEATH STILL UNSOLVED

Coroner's Jury Awaits Word from State Chemists Before Meeting Again

No word had been received from Madison at noon Tuesday on the analysis of the vital organs of Charles Wellnitz, 63-year-old Fremont hotel man, which had been sent there for examination following recovery of the body from the Wolf river near Fremont by a fisherman Sunday morning. A coroner's jury which held an inquest Sunday afternoon will meet again at the call of Otto L. Olen, Clintonville, Waupaca-co district attorney who is awaiting word on the findings of the state chemists.

The body of the hotel man was discovered at the bottom of the river by Henry Braemer, a fisherman. Wellnitz had been missing since about 2 o'clock Sunday morning. The funeral was held at 1:30 Tuesday afternoon at the German Lutheran church at Fremont. The Rev. Ervin Schmidt conducted the service.

GROCCERS HOLD ANNUAL OUTING AT GREEN LAKE

The annual outing for retail and wholesale grocers will be held on Wednesday, June 9, at Green Lake. Grocers from Appleton, Kimberly, Little Chute, Kaukauna, Menasha and Neenah will be invited. Among special features which have been arranged by the committee are races and contests between retail and wholesale grocers, baseball, "barnyard" golf and a number of new stunts.

WISCONSIN WEATHER
Fair tonight and probably Wednesday, cooler tonight in east and near lakes Wednesday.

WEATHER CONDITIONS
A low pressure area moving eastward from the plain states across the section yesterday evening is now centered over the middle Lake region. It has caused showers from the Ohio and middle Mississippi valley southward. It is followed by high pressure over the plain states, with fair weather. This high pressure is spreading over this section and should cause fair weather in this section tonight and Wednesday, with lower temperatures than were experienced over the weekend.

JAZZ MAY LEAD TO NEW BRAND OF U. S. MUSIC

American Musicians Devoting
Themselves to More Serious
Compositions

New York.—(P)—American composers and lyricists here believe that out of all the Blues, Jazz and Rag of recent years is coming a new American music of melody and rhythm.

"The development has been gradual but from now on it may be expected to become pronounced. For composers are devoting themselves more and more to music of a serious vein."

"Jazz," in the opinion of George Gershwin, whose "Symphony in Blue" has attracted wide attention "will always be with us, even though it may change its form and color. Any music typical of America will feel and express its influence."

"Jazz has been looked down upon by many people, and rightly so because in a majority of instances it has been incorrectly played. Properly presented, it is very hard to play. The real jazz compositions of today can hardly be recognized as related to those of the past."

On the other hand, Jerome Kern neapolitan spent Memorial day with their parents Mr. and Mrs. William Somboke, E. Wisconsin-ave., and Mrs. P. Peske, W. Prospect-ave. Miss Harriet Tracy, W. Prospect-ave., will accompany them to Minneapolis to be their guest for several weeks.

"They have developed a lot of them—some marvelous and beautiful. But in this concentration, they neglected finding new rhythms," said Otto Harbach, who wrote the lyrics for "Sunshine," "Rose Marie" and "Song of the Flame," the last two especially noted for their approach toward the grand opera type of music.

"The new American music, I believe will be found in these melodies, through which will run the charming rhythms we have found and developed."

As for the public's taste, Edwin C. Mills of the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers, contends it remains the same.

"The public's ear at present is just like that of the past generation," he said. "It wants good melodies with a few novelties. Good ballads always have been popular and always will be. The same is true of any good music."

"Ragtime, Blues and Jazz are the novelties and we'll always have more or less the 'Banana', 'Hot Mama' and 'Sweetie' type of songs."

FIREMEN SAVE TWO THOUSAND LIVES AT FIRE

Members of the fire department saved almost 2,000 lives Sunday morning when a fire in a barn owned by Alfred Schimmer, S. Kernan ave., caught fire about 9 o'clock. All of the chicks were rescued and the fire was extinguished without damage. The property is occupied by Joseph Schimmer, a brother of the owner.

PEACE, PREPAREDNESS ESSENTIAL TO OTHER

Memorial day is a time for reflection and consideration not only of the past but also of the future and a time to look squarely to the cause of peace and preparedness. H. J. Pettigrew, past chairman of Outagamie co., of the American Legion said in addresses at Little Chute, Hortonville and Reedsville Sunday and Monday. Mr. Pettigrew spoke at the Hortonville observance Sunday afternoon, at Little Chute Sunday evening and at Reedsville Monday morning. He talked on the observance of Memorial day from the soldier's point of view.

Peace and preparedness, are essential to each other, Mr. Pettigrew said. The legion is for peace and is working for it in a practical manner. The legion organization is not challenged for a lack of sincerity in its purpose. It is the logical organization to take up the work of the Grand Army of the Republic, which is almost gone. He said it will continue preaching and teaching America as the U. S. A. R. has in the past.

REBEKAH LODGE CONFERS DEGREE ON 205 PERSONS

Ivy Lodge of Oshkosh Exemplifies Work Before Large Audience

Assembly degrees were conferred on 205 candidates at the opening session of the forty-first annual meeting of the Rebekah Assembly of Wisconsin Monday evening in Castle hall. The meeting is being held in conjunction with the eightieth annual session of the Grand lodge of the Odd Fellows of Wisconsin on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. The degree work was exemplified by Ivy lodge of Oshkosh under the direction of Mrs. Carrie Andrews, staff captain. An audience of about 700 Rebekahs and Odd Fellows witnessed the ceremony.

Tuesday morning a session at Castle hall was called to order by Mrs. Gertrude Wimbler, Platteville president of the Wisconsin assembly. The assembly officers were escorted to their stations by Mrs. Beatrice Hanson, Mrs. Nellie Williams, Mrs. Pearl Boyce, Mrs. Frances Waterman and Mrs. Nellie Wilson, all of Janesville. Mrs. Grace Wilkerson of Sheboygan, Mrs. Fannie Spencer and Mabel Shibley of Appleton.

Gifts were presented to each assembly officer by Little Alice Jane DeLong Miss DeLong then gave a recitation entitled "Driving From the Back Seat," and responded to an encore.

The session was opened with the annual report of the president, Mrs. Wimbler. This was followed by the report of the vice president, Mrs. Hil-da Wipf of Iowa. The session was concluded with the report of the assembly treasurer, Mrs. Sarah Tyrell. Memorial services for deceased Rebekahs were held at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. Other reports of officers were submitted at the afternoon meeting. About 450 Rebekahs had registered for the state assembly Tuesday noon.

City carriers made an afternoon delivery Saturday to make certain that there would be no congestion Tuesday morning, while Memorial day mail was light.

RIVER STEAMER SEASON STARTS IN OHIO TOWNS

Shrill Whistle of Showboats
Bring Joy to Buckeye Villagers

Cincinnati.—(P)—Calliope's shrill musical blasts reverberate in the small river towns these warm days as the showboats, embarked on a promising summer season, pull along shore and cast anchor.

In the fleet of floating theaters, from the biggest and oldest to the smallest, there are nine of the flat-bottomed vessels in operation this year. They will cruise the rivers from the extreme points on the Ohio, the Allegheny and the Illinois to the lowest points on the south on the Mississippi.

Showboats have played the river settlements for nearly half a century. Some showmen virtually have made homes of them and grown old with them. Their business, many of the owners say, is at flourishing now as ever.

The largest afloat this year is the Cotton Blossom with a seating capacity of 2,000. The Cotton Blossom has replaced the Golden Rod, which formerly was the largest. Then comes Franch's New Sensation. On its upriver cruise it anchors here for a brief lay-over, took on a number of new people engaged for the summer and went on its way.

The showboats usually pass by Cincinnati unnoticed. When occasionally they stop the calliope is silent, and there are no crowds to greet them. Their repertoire never finds an audience in Cincinnati, although they do have patronage in some of the larger cities along the course.

It is mostly in the small river town where theaters are few or not at all that the calliope awakens the countryside and draws the population for miles around to the river bank. The larger boats that have hands unload the show and invoke a holiday. The stars come ashore and meet the crowd and the band spends the afternoon parading about town, collecting an audience for the evening performance.

There is nothing heavy about the drama in the river theaters but they usually have fair musical accompaniment to comedies and the melodramatic plays that thrive on mystery and romance.

The bigger the theaters, after spending the winter south as is usually their custom, have headed north and the fleet is augmented by smaller craft which operate only in the summer.

Among these are Brant's Showboat, The Majestic, America, Water Queen, Columbia and The Princess. With accommodations for only 500 The Princess is the smallest afloat.

knobs, could only boast one out of ten. Up to the present, Amiens holds the all French record for divorces.

WOMAN COULD NOT SLEEP

Her Mother-in-Law Knew
A Remedy

Mrs. Belle Thompson, of Georgia, was in a very weak and run-down condition for four years. She had great difficulty in getting to sleep at night and even then she did not sleep soundly. She would wake up again and again. Besides this her appetite was poor. "My mother-in-law told me of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash," she writes. "I took six bottles of the Vegetable Compound and I was not the same woman at all. I could sleep and would get up in the morning singing and feeling fine. I am the mother of three children and always after the babies came I had to take treatments, but I can truly say that this last time I have only used the Sanative Wash. It does me more good than the treatments. It keeps me on my feet to care for my children and I do most of my work. I feel it my duty to let you know how both of the medicines have helped me."—Mrs. Belle Thompson, R. 2, Rossville, Georgia.

I am the mother of three children and always after the babies came I had to take treatments, but I can truly say that this last time I have only used the Sanative Wash. It does me more good than the treatments. It keeps me on my feet to care for my children and I do most of my work. I feel it my duty to let you know how both of the medicines have helped me."—Mrs. Belle Thompson, R. 2, Rossville, Georgia.

MANY ATTEND CHILTON MEMORIAL SERVICES

Special to Post-Crescent
Chilton—Memorial Day was observed in this city Monday in the usual manner. For years this day has been held in the nature of a home coming for those who formerly lived here, and each year many persons return for this occasion. Those who took part in the parade which formed on Main-st. at 9 o'clock were the Randolph O. Grasshopper post, the Joseph F. Reynolds post, the city band and the common council, the Woman's Relief corps, the Boy Scouts and about 300 children from the public and parochial schools. The speaker of the day was Attorney Leo P. F. His subject was the Efficient Working of the American Constitution.

Songs were sung by each of the schools and the Galtysburg address was given by Florence Schmidtkofer. An unusually large crowd attended the services.

The Chilton city baseball team lost to West Bend at the Fair grounds here Monday afternoon by a score of 3 to 1.

Dr. and Mrs. Louis Linsey son Theodore and daughter Margaret, of Racine spent Memorial Day in this city. Mrs. George Wolfe of Hildreth will accompany them home and will visit at Racine and Milwaukee for a week.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Rasmussen of Racine spent two days at the home of Mrs. Rasmussen's sister, Mrs. Francis Bloomer.

Miss Genevieve Flatley, who teaches in the public schools of Kenosha, was here Friday to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Flatley.

Mr. and Mrs. Guido L. Weber and son Robert, spent Sunday and Monday in Sturgeon Bay visiting the parents of Mr. Weber.

Mrs. Frank Holzer and children of Milwaukee visited at the home of Thomas Barry Monday.

Miss Lucy Flatley of Sheboygan, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Flatley, from Saturday to Tuesday.

Chief of Police Thomas Barry is ill with an attack of the grip. William Salter will substitute for him during his absence.

Frank Schneider, Sr., whose wife died Thursday was stricken with an attack of what is believed to be sleeping sickness shortly after her death, and has been in an unconscious condition since then.

Mrs. Frank Schneider, Jr., was taken ill after the funeral of Mr. Frank Schneider Sr. Monday morning and is under the care of a trained nurse at her home on Douglas-st.

LAZINESS RUINS SINGING VOICE

Madame Schuman - Heinh Says "Young American Singers Won't Practice"

Samuel Chotzloff, in Liberty
Mme. Schumann-Heink, who is still the greatest contralto in the history of music, after 30 years of singing, but whose laziness that causes the trouble with artists in America," she says, "is that they want to enjoy everything and at the same time keep the voice. They want to run to night clubs, and dance and drink and eat rich food, and of course they feel terrible when they get up. Then they make a success—they have lovely natural youthful voices. But success is bad for them. They lose their heads, they sing too much, they don't take care of themselves, and they will not practice! Suddenly they find they can't sing any more."

HERE'S DOLEFUL NEWS FOR FOX VALLEY FISHERS

Menasha—Local fishermen predict that very few fish will be caught in Lake Winnebago the coming summer. They base their prediction on the presence of schools of sheepshead within the inner sandbars of the lake which is unusual at this time of the year. Previous years they have seldom been seen until late in the summer. As soon as they appear the game fish disappear. For several months sheepshead have been afflicted with a mildy that is killing many of them. The disease affects their bodies which are covered with sores.

PRAISE NEENAH AS BIRTHPLACE OF BIG SOCIETY

Equitable Fraternal Union Starts National Convention

Neenah—Judge J. C. Karel of Milwaukee, Supreme President of the Equitable Fraternal union opened the three-day National convention of the order Tuesday morning with an address of appreciation and welcome.

The convention is attended by delegates and visitors from 19 states in which the order has branches. Its offices, press and business men's associations are planning to help the Equitable Fraternal union celebrate its twelfth quadrennial convention of its society. To every member of this society and for myself both as an individual member and as president the compliment so conveyed is a legitimate cause for pride.

From a small beginning we have attained a mighty growth and with every stride by which that standing was achieved, the name, the honor and fortunes of Neenah and the Equitable Fraternal union have in our minds, have been inseparably interwoven. Through 10 states its branches spread, but ever it is borne in mind that Neenah is the root and parent stem. That we have reached that summit of desire is largely due to the zealous sincerity and self-sacrificing labor of a circle of devoted officials, many of them Neenah citizens without whose earnest cooperation and unflinching persistence the ultimate victory could not have been achieved. For them and for myself and for the organization at large, I wish to express our most sincere and gratefully appreciative thanks to the citizens of Neenah, to the mayor and city council, to the press and to the business men's association, in fact to every one concerned, for the generous courtesy which every member of the Equitable Fraternal union will prize and lasting remember.

The Equitable Fraternal union was organized in 1817 by Neenah citizens F. T. Russell, E. A. Williams, M. J. Campbell, J. P. Jasperman, Dr. J. R. Barnett, E. L. Baines, J. C. Hilton, W. G. Brown and Orrin Thompson. The three latter are the only survivors of the founders. One of the notable events in the history of the lodge was the erection in 1915 in Neenah of a $100,000 home office.

The present Supreme officers: Judge J. C. Karel, Milwaukee, president, E. H. Palmer, Antigo, vice president, Orrin Thompson, Neenah, secretary, J. C. Hilton, Neenah, treasurer, James Dolan, Platteville, past president, W. G. Brown, Neenah, auditor, Judge C. P. Haught, Ladang, Mich., warden, George A. Robbins, Sheboygan Falls, John S. Tolverson, Fulda, Minn., T. W. Hamilton, Berlin, J. Earle Brown, Lansing, Mich., and Norton J. Williams, Neenah trustees; Dr. G. H. Williamson, Neenah, medical examiner, Benjamin Posa, Milwaukee, general attorney, Do. W. Durham, editor, Norton J. Williams, Neenah, field manager, L. D. Verdier, Saginaw, Mich., O. Q. Beigel, Elgin, Ill., P. J. Berger, St. Cloud, Minn., F. C. Meinhardt, Milwaukee, Theodore Vanke, Ashland, Wis., auditing committee; Benjamin Posa, Milwaukee, J. Earle Brown, Lansing, Mich., and Judge Jeremiah C. Neil, Prairie du Chien, law committee.

Following the welcome by Judge Karel, "America" was sung by the delegates. Then followed invocation by the Rev. J. D. Schlackebach of Neenah welcome address to delegates by E. H. Palmer; welcome in behalf of city by acting mayor William Schuman, Jr., response on behalf of delegates by William B. Adams of Los Angeles, Calif. Following a solo by Gordon Pope and the appointment of a committee on credentials the morning session adjourned until 2 o'clock in the afternoon. The feature of the afternoon session was the address given by Herman L. Eklern of Madison attorney general of Wisconsin.

The evening program will follow the banquet in the home building for which special dance numbers have been arranged. Solos will be sung by Mrs. Hazel Bushey of Appleton and Gordon Pope of Neenah. This will be followed by dancing.

Wednesday morning will be devoted to business sessions, followed by a theatre party, baseball game, initiation of a class of candidates and ending with a dance in the hall.

PROBATE WILL

Neenah—A petition has been filed to probate the will of Mrs. Lena C. Hunko of Neenah. The petition places the value of the personal property at not exceeding $4,500 and states that there are no heirs or profits from real estate.

and Mrs. Theodore Johnson motored to Sturgeon Bay Monday.

Miss Lillian Gibson, spent the weekend with relatives in Merrill.

Mr. and Mrs. George Yanggen of Milwaukee, were guests of Mrs. E. C. Ehrig over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Fitzgibbons of Milwaukee, were weekend guests of relatives.

NEIGHBORS' WIVES

BEGIN HERE TODAY
JOHN MILBURN, partner in the advertising agency of GRAHAM AND MILBURN, hails the birth of a baby girl to his wife, FAY, as a big event and the turning point in their marriage.

John is of a romantic nature, which finds an outlet in the advertising copy he writes. He is impractical in his family. Fay runs the budget, just as in the advertising business the financial details are run by NATHANIEL GRAHAM, his partner. The firm is small, but promising. There is one artist, BRIGGS, and a secretary, MISS KNISELY.

While Fay is in the hospital, John is invited to a swimming party at the country place of PAT FORBES and his wife. There he meets several friends of the Forbes', all of whom are married. One of them, NELL ORME, attracts John by the striking picture she makes in a bathing suit. Pat Forbes hints of trouble between Nell and her husband, HOWARD, and later John accepts Nell's challenge to swimming race.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
The names and situations in this story are fictitious.

CHAPTER VI
It was a perfect dive. John stood still in sheer admiration for several seconds and then heard her low laughing rising musically across the water.

"Come on," she called, and he dove in after her, aware that beside her own beautiful effort he was a rank failure.

She set out at a swift pace, using her arms like little globes of silver in the moonlight and her arms were alabaster. "Still there?" she cried tauntingly, and set out with a faster pace.

Pretty soon she came to a stop and John could see she was standing at shoulder depth. "Here's where we turn," she informed him. "Thought I'd wait for you. Come on," and before he could draw a full breath she had started off again.

He tried his best to match her speed, but this time she apparently was in earnest and he soon realized the futility of it. When he got back to the springing board she was waiting for him and smiling. "You're really a very good swimmer," she encouraged him. "You're better than Howard. I think you're as good as Henry Smith."

"Who's the fat fellow?"

"Yes, he's the best one around here. That is, he's the best male swimmer," she laughed. "None of them will swim against me any more."

She spoke without a trace of boastfulness, like a frank boy. "Have a smoke," she asked suddenly, cocking her head toward him.

They were sitting with their feet dangling from the platform, but where are we going to get one?

"You don't carry a waterproof cigarette case, do you?"

"Where would I put it?" she asked, ruefully regarding her suit, and John laughed.

She moved over to the springing board and fell beneath it at the plank's base. "Here we are," she called, holding up a paper package and a box of matches. "This is our private cache."

"An admirable idea," commented John, holding a match for her. "Whose was it?"

"A lazy man's you might know," she answered. "It was Henry Smith's." She laughed. "Poor Henry. He really prefers cigars, but he couldn't risk hiding a supply up here. He tried it once, but Elmer stole them all. Now all we have is cigars."

They smoked in silence for a few minutes. Finally she said, "You said his baby was your first one, didn't you?"

"First offense," he smiled.

"I know you're thrilled, aren't you?" she asked.

"Well—yes, I am," he said honestly.

She was silent again for a brief space. Then, "I adore babies," she remarked quietly and got to her feet.

There was nothing he could say to this, although he thought for a minute of asking, "Why don't you have one, then?"

Without another word, she flashed off the diving board again, and once more he was held in a sort of admiration at the beauty of it.

He dived off after her, but there were no more words between them; he was swimming silently and effortlessly and he grew tired trying to keep up with her.

Finally he stood up in shallow water. "I'm all in," he called to her, and walked up on the beach, waiting.

When she joined him, he said apologetically, "The man who spoke of women as the weaker sex had things twisted, I'm afraid."

She laughed softly. "Did I tire you?" Walking beside him, she stepped in the sand and would have fallen, but he was quick with his arms and caught her, his hands romping the firm flesh of her arms.

"You're not so weak yourself," he laughed when she had regained her balance, and he relaxed his grip a hair and murmured an unintentional apology for his roughness.

When they got to the fire, Mrs. Fry and Marian Forbes had rejoined the men.

"Did you enjoy your swim?" asked Marian, and John answered, "Yes."

"I'll bet she gave you a stomach-

FEW DOG OWNERS FAIL TO PAY THEIR LICENSES

Only between five and eight owners of dogs in Appleton have failed to provide licenses for their animals, according to George T. Prim, chief of police, who states that the city has little trouble regarding the matter. With these few exceptions, all owners have acted promptly upon notification.

"Under the Wisconsin law owners need not provide license tags for their dogs unless these were more than six months old on the first day of the year. If the animals are less than six months old on Jan. 1, they are not subject to tax until the following year," Chief Prim explained.

"Put together, isn't she?" said Pat coarsely.

"Well, since you mention it, I don't believe I noticed," John grinned broadly.

"You're a liar," Pat laughed.

"Funny thing, though," he added presently, "about Nell and Howard. They just don't seem to hit it off. Still, what else can you expect from marriage—most of them at any rate."

"Why, what do you mean, Pat?"

"Just this. That most marriages are a mistake. Mine is. If I had it to do all over again, I wouldn't marry at all. At least I wouldn't marry Marian."

U. S. BUYS ITS GOODS FROM MANY COUNTRIES

The United States bought more than $100,000,000 worth of commodities from each of 13 countries last year, according to an analysis of the world trade of this country in 1925 made by the foreign commerce department of the United States, a copy of which has been received by the local chamber.

The countries which sold the most to this country in 1925 were Canada, Great Britain, Japan, Straits Settlements, Cuba, Brazil, Mexico, China, Germany, France, British India, Philippine Islands and Italy.

At the same time, the analysis discloses that this country's five leading export markets in 1925—Great Britain, Canada, Germany, France and Japan—took 54 per cent of America's total exports.

"These five countries," the report continues, "in the same order also were the leaders as buyers of our goods in 1924. Thirty-seven countries purchased more than $10,000,000 of United States products in 1925. Our exports to these countries were 96 per cent of the total exports—only 4 per cent being distributed to the rest of the world."

DISINTEREST OF TAXPAYER CAUSE OF HIGH TAXES

Greater Interest in Public Affairs Would Lower Taxes, Judge Declares

"The indifference of taxpayers to public affairs is one reason why taxes are so high," Fred V. Heinemann, county judge said, in a talk before the Northeastern Wisconsin Interior Finishers club at its monthly meeting at Conway hotel this week.

"The average voting man or woman goes to the polls once or twice a year to vote and makes a big kick for a week or two about how high the taxes are and what is wrong with a government that doesn't make them lower," said the judge. Then he goes home and forgets all about it until the next year.

The tendency of legislative bodies to avoid responsibility and the delegation of governmental powers to appointive officers who are not responsible to the people for their actions, was given by the judge as another of the seven reasons for high taxes. He cited as an instance the industrial commission, which was formed for the purpose of enforcing the workmen's compensation act. Each member needs a stenographer and each stenographer needs several assistants and so on down the line until there is vast state organization which was never intended.

Politicians were cited as the third reason for high taxes. By this the judge explained that he meant the men who made a living through playing politics.

"Log-rolling in legislative bodies is another reason why your taxes are high," said the judge. Representatives of the people wear the attitude "You scratch my back and I'll scratch yours" and they work together to help the other fellow get what the other fellow wants and so on."

SUPPORT FAMILY OF MAN THEY KILLED

Stickshimmy, Pa.—(A)—Eight young men, riding in an automobile which ran down and killed Augustus Spayder, father of nine children, have chosen to maintain the family as a partial means of retribution.

In the meantime charges of manslaughter, pending against the eight, have been suspended pending the outcome of the experiment.

The father was killed while walking along the highway after obtaining medicine for a sick child, which later died. The motorists failed to stop after hitting Spayder but later were apprehended. When arraigned in court no defense was entered and no jury trial was asked. Counsel explained his clients had moved the widow and eight children here, that they might be more easily cared for and that they planned to erect and furnish a home for the family at a cost of about $5,000. Court suspended sentence to see how the experiment worked out.

American steel rails will be used in harbor improvements at Chefoo, China.

mental functions, from elective officers and placing large powers in appointive boards and commissions, was given as the fifth reason.

The increase of public institutions for the care of indigent and unfortunate residents, is the sixth reason, the judge said.

"The state of Wisconsin has approximately $11,300,000 invested in public buildings," said Judge Heinemann. "and it costs more than $2,300,000 a year to operate and maintain these buildings. Of that amount $12,000 is paid by the residents of Outagamie county to support buildings which they have nothing to with at all. It costs Outagamie county between $150,000 and $175,000 per year to maintain the county city and other public buildings." The judge said that he was not suggesting a remedy for this particular reason but that he used it to show where the tax money was going.

The seventh reason given by the judge for high taxes was the indifference of law making bodies to constitutional and statutory limitations in the expenditure of public moneys.

PRICE OF CHICKENS IS HIGH IN FRANCE

Paris—(A)—The Paris press has discovered another grievance against owners of foreign exchange in that they prevent the French from eating chicken.

The price of chicken has reached heights that prohibit any but the wealthiest French housewife from putting it on the table, even on Sundays. A forty franc chicken is a poor little thing and even sixty francs does not purchase anything more than a fairly decent bird.

The ability of American automobiles to climb hills and travel rough roads has made cars from this country and Canada popular in New Zealand, which bought six times as many American machines this season as it did four years ago.

OFFER REDUCED RATES FOR RAINBOW CONFAB

Reduced rates to all members of the Rainbow Division Veterans association and dependent members of their families who will attend the annual convention of the association in New York City from July 14 to 16 will be offered by nearly all railroad lines in the country.

Certificates will be issued to all posts for the number of veterans who will make the trip. Round-trip tickets will be sold at reduced rates by railroad ticket agents upon presentation of the certificates.

The Waldorf-Astoria hotel will be headquarters for the veterans. The Sixty-ninth Regimental armory also will be available for sleeping quarters without cost to those attending the convention.

Lothar Graef of Appleton is a national vice-president of the association.

In a short time Little Marquese after I had just hugged my two boys until they were tired Jack spoke.

I have been so homesome since you have been gone. Mover that I have wanted to die.

Of course Little Marquese I know that my oldest son did not know what the word die meant, but nevertheless it sent a cold shiver down my spine and I interposed hastily.

Oh no Jack you mustn't say that Little Marquese is to live and grow up and he zood men like his daddies.

But mover I can't help but be homesome when you're gone. I've tried and tried and I just wanted to be down on my bed and go to sleep and not wake up until you came back—until the pretty lad came.

Although I knew that Jackie meant Paula Perrier I said:

Who was the pretty lady Jackie?

I don't know all her name Aunt Sally calls her something like Paul but at a boy's name you know. She calls me darling, he said shyly.

What do you say Jackie when you want to speak to her? I asked rather anxious to know what my adopted son called Miss Perrier.

Oh I say pretty lady and she says yes during that she takes me in her arms and hugs me just as tight as you did a little while ago and she says in a soft kind of—sorry voice a lot of words that I can't understand. I asked her what they were and she said at that time French and at I must I say, home right away. I told her I did not have to learn French to talk to you.

De other day she said you love your mover very much don't you darling?

And I said Better'n anyone.

And she said you must always love her better'n anybody else. As the best woman at ever lived. At that time she said I was home. I put my arms around her neck and kissed her a lot. It almost seemed as though I were kissing you. But I think I must have hurt her somehow kissing her so hard for her cheeks. It got tears on them and they ran down her nose and not into my mouth and as were all of it. What do you suppose made her say "Yes"?

She said I didn't hurt her. Have brother been gone Jackie? I asked to turn the corner on (Copyright 1925 NEA Service Inc.)

CAPN PENNYWINKLE HAS A BUSY DAY

I'm sorry you have lost your shadow. Whiffet said Capn Pennywinkle when he had turned his traffic sign at the corner of Shell Avenue and Shell Boulevard at the bottom of the sea. I'll help you to find it if I can but the trouble is that when shadows jump into the water they change their shapes and yours might look like anything from a plate of pancakes to a stick of candy. Just wait and I'll ask this whale."

The little traffic policeman turned his sign and the whale stopped. Did you see a lost shadow anywhere on your travels? asked Capn Pennywinkle.

The whale winked one eye at Nance and the other eye at Nick and then he winked his tail. No you don't, chuckled he. I've heard many a queer story in my day but nothing as silly as that. Ta ta.

And off he went laughing so hard that ten latter fish and six murets had to fly fairly out of his way. A sea-cucumber sitting on the curb-stone laughed so hard at this that he got the hiccoughs dreadfully. Then along came a lobster and hit him on the back with his great claw.

The sea-cucumber choked and coughed and what do you think my dears. Out flew his stomach and rolled with a bounce along the sand. Bounce! Bounce! Bounce like a ball. You're arrested for assault and battery, shouted Capn Pennywinkle to the lobster. Just see what you've done.

Please sir, piped up the little sea cucumber who had coughed. I don't mind it. I never did like that stomach anyway. It was too little. I'll have a new one in ten minutes. Besides, just look. The lobster has lost his big claw.

What's that? cried the lobster looking down. Lost my claw? Why so I have and I never noticed it. No harm done—I'll grow a new one in no time. But there I have an appointment to meet some friends at the lobster-trap at two thirty. We like to go and watch the fisherman haul in his trap without us. We always give them rousing cheers. Well, ta ta. I must be going. The lobster waved his other claw, and he was gone.

APPLETON 3, KIMBERLY 3
(Called in seventh, rain).
Green Bay 9, Neenah 4 (Forfeit).
Oshkosh-Fond du Lac (No game, rain).

Eighteen unweathered, watersoaked athletes and two umpires in coach the same condition battled three innings in a driving rain Monday afternoon at Kimberly before the Fox river valley loop ball game between Appleton and the K-C men was called in the seventh inning because of wet grounds. The score was a tied, 3-3, when the umpires decided they were not enough to quit. The word "battled" used above, included the two umpires for ever since the rain started to fall early in the fourth frame both teams fought the arbiters either to have the game called or continued.

Green Bay found herself sitting easily on top of the valley loop heap Monday evening as the result of a forfeit by Neenah in Monday afternoon's game. With the Baymen leading, 3-2, in the sixth frame, Manager Larson of Neenah took his crew off the field as the result of a disputed decision and the umpires immediately forfeited the tilt to the Bays, 9-0. The Fondy-Oshkosh game was postponed because of wet grounds.

Kimberly scored three times in the fourth and in spite of the fact that it was pouring in that inning and the fifth the home team refused to allow the umpires to call the game until the fifth was completed so that it would count as a tilt. Then Appleton, the "goat" of an extra inning of play in the rain so that the game might be recorded as such, put in its oar with the result that the arbiters decided to call the tilt at the end of the seventh. By that time the score was tied, saving a Buckman defeat.

Meanwhile the rain fell harder than ever and the field was one solid mass of "kumby" with pools standing out a few inches deep in low spots. The ball could not be handled, hits were of the freakish sort and runners had to wade the ball hard to get even to first. In the dispute over calling the tilt, Umpire Casey Jensen banished Cave Ratzke, Appleton first-sacker for "talking back."

Crowe and Vanderloop staged a nice battle with Vandy having a slight edge until the rain fell. Then Crowe was better able to handle the slippery ball and Vandy was replaced first by Hatch and then by Marty Lamers, but Appleton got three runs though Marty's relief work prevented the loss of the tilt for Kimberly. About a dozen balls were used alternately, the bathys drying and cleaning some while two others were used until put over the rear stand or wrecked by the rain and mud together with the bats. The hurlers issued only a few walks considering the weather.

Kimberly made an effort to score in the second when Phillips singled to start the frame. A fielder's choice cut him down but then took two on Schultz's bad pop to first. Hartjes and Vanderloop were easy outs. Appleton started out with a single by Bendt in the same frame but Ashman hit into fast double play. H. Tornow and Schultz walked and pulled a double steal but Crowe fanned.

The fourth was Kimberly's big frame. Marty Lamers got on on Schultz's error and Phillips was passed. Skall fanned and then H. Tornow singled over short scoring Marty and

CLINTONVILLE NINE SHUTS OUT WAUPACA

Special to Post-Crescent
Clintonville—In a fast six inning game Clintonville defeated Waupaca 5-0 Monday. Up to the last half of the sixth inning neither side scored, but the Clintonville Giants got to Roman's curves and pounded him for three two-base hits and one triple which resulted into five runs for the local team. The game was called in the first half of the seventh on account of rain. It was the third victory for the local team, Battery for Clintonville, Rachel and Wood; for Waupaca, Roman and Roman. Clintonville will play at Waupaca next Monday.

Phillips to third. Hartjes fanned and with two down the wet ball slipped from H. Tornow's mit on an easy fly center. Vanderloop getting a life. Phillips scoring and then taking third. Cavil singled past Schultz and Thein scored. Crowe fanned L. Thein for his third strikeout of the frame to end the slaughter. Every run resulted directly from errors, though two hits aided the gathering. Appleton's first tally came in the sixth. Reffke, sub outfielder, started things with a walk and Bartz shot a single to third. C. Tornow and Bendt fanned in a row and things looked bad until Ashman singled to left. Reffke and Baetz advanced a base and both sped home when Cavil, K-C left fielder, threw wild to third base to catch Reffke. Baetz, however, was called back and allowed only one base to the play. Then H. Tornow popped to shortstop.

Appleton's chance to win the game came in the seventh but only two runs came over though there were no hits made. Schultz went out third to first and then Vanderloop walked Crowe and Gosha. Their took the mound long enough to walk Reffke and then Marty Lamers was called in. Marty fanned Baetz for the second out and Appleton hopes began to fade. Son Tornow shot a long fly to center field and Len Smith dropped it when he got "stuck" in the mud. Crowe and Gosha scored and Reffke advanced to third. With the winning run on the sacks, Marty fanned Bendt for the third out. Kimberly went down 1-2-3 in its half of the inning. Len Smith and M. Lamers fanning and Phillips grounding out to short. The game then was called.

Phillips started two fast double killings for Kimberly while H. Tornow and Schultz pulled off a snappy double steal for Appleton.

IDLE YANKS HOLD LEAD AS RIVALS SPLIT BATTLES

Champion Pirates Unable to Bag Both Ends of Bill With Loop-leading Reds

Chicago—(C)—Memorial day on major league battlefields, passing, in an explosion of baseball shells from America's modern heroes of bat and ball, apparently left no wounded in the ranks of major league pennant contenders. Standings Tuesday were virtually unchanged as a result of an even division of spoils among all the clubs which were able to complete their schedule of twin conflicts. The Yankees beaten back by rain retained their margin at the peak of the American as the result of Philadelphia's failure to do better than match victory for victory with the Red Sox. Howard Ehmke limited the Mackmen to six scattered blows; in the first game and shut them out, 2 to 0, but the Athletics came back in the second contest to rock two Boston hurlers for 14 hits and an easy triumph, 8 to 2.

Detroit-St. Louis and Chicago-Cleveland struggles also ended with honors even. Twenty-five hits were spread over the first nine inning tilt of the Tigers and Browns, with Cobb's men drawing out a 10 to 7 victory by a seven run rampage in the last two frames. In the second melee, ended by darkness in the seventh, the Browns balanced the account with a 9 to 7 triumph.

Pitchers battled featured the Cleveland struggles. Lyons pitching 12 scoreless inning against the Indians before they finally kicked him for a lone tally in the eighth, hurled the White Sox to a 3-1 victory in the opener. Manager Tris Speaker who has had trouble getting into his stride at the plate, benched both himself and Jamieson for poor hitting in the second game which gave the Redskins a chance to come back in 12-innings, 5 to 4.

SUNDAY GAMES
Freedom 10, Little Chute 8.
Wrightstown 7, Oneida 6.
De Pere 10, Combined Locks 5.

Freedom and Wrightstown held to a tie for first place in the Intercounty Baseball League as the result of victories in the second games of the season Sunday. Wrightstown trounced the Oneida Indians, 7 to 6, in a thrilling battle which was undecided until the end and Freedom beat Little Chute, 10-8, in another hard battle. The Oneida crew was tied for the top with the two present leaders last Sunday. In the other game De Pere went into a third-place tie with the Indians by licking Combined Locks Specials, 10-5. Combined Locks and the Chuters hold the cellar position.

Next Sunday Little Chute and Combined Locks clash at the Locks in a battle to come out of the cellar. Freedom invades Oneida in an important battle with the strong Indians and Wrightstown and De Pere clash at Wrightstown. The Freedom-Oneida game will be a battle for the week with the Indians having a chance to regain the top if they can pull the Freedomites down a notch.

Jack Dempsey Has Gone Back, But Still Can Hit

BY JOE WILLIAMS

Hendersonville, N. C.—Well what about Dempsey? Is he as good as he used to be? Has he gone back? Can he whip Tunney? Or Wills? Or your old Aunt Emma.

Those questions are not out of order. The heavyweight champion is putting on the climactic touches to a month of preliminary training here in the mountains, launching a comeback program which is to return him to the ring in New York in September.

It has been nearly three years since Dempsey has had an actual fight. It has been almost that long since he has given a serious thought to the business of fighting. For the most part this time has been devoted to enterprises entirely divorced from battling.

Dempsey has to come back two ways: (1) He has to bring his physical attributes back to their old-time fighting form and (2) He has to recharge his fighting mind and fighting soul with the old zeal and fire that swept him triumphantly past the Willards, the Carpenters, the Gibbonses and the Fippos.

Whether he can do this to the degree demanded by the assignment which confronts him is the main question, and your answer to that is as good as mine or the bearded prophet of the enchanted mesa or Sir Conan Doyle's pet medium.

Has Dempsey gone back? Certainly! It isn't in the books that any man, even a Dempsey, can remain in a state of semi-inactivity for three years and still be the athlete he was when he was fighting regularly. Dempsey isn't within 10 or possibly 20 per cent the fighter he was the night he knocked out Firpo in two rounds.

He isn't for the simple reason that his still strong basically, his energy is not spent, he isn't worn out.

is not productive of advancement, and invariably it brings a GRADUAL DECA—decay so insidious and subtle as to be unnoticeable by the man himself, but it's there just the same.

Dempsey has been a great fighter. It is very likely he is still a great fighter. An important consideration in his case is this: he can lose some of his effectiveness and still be great enough to whip most of the boys who are disputing his supremacy.

How much of it he can lose and still be formidable is something else. Were it necessary for Dempsey to step into the ring today against either Tunney or Wills I don't think he would be able to hold his title. He is not timing his punches as he used to and he is not getting around on his feet with his old-time certainty.

These little things—tragic in importance when they leave openings for crashing counter attacks—might bring about his defeat. Tunney with his youth and superior endurance, might wear him down. Wills can certainly hit hard enough to drop him if he lands right.

This is Dempsey in May. What he will be in September is the big thing. That's when he's going to fight. It is logical enough that he should show a lack of deftness in timing his blows and moving around on his feet. The three years out of the ring have done that. Hard training may bring it all back.

To my mind the most significant thing about Dempsey after looking him over for three weeks is that he is still punching with tremendous force. The kick is still in his knee. The kick is still in his knee. The dynamite explodes. This indicates he is still strong basically, his energy is not spent, he isn't worn out.

GROSS SCORE OF 40 TAKES BEST BALL GOLF MEET

Denney, Holbrook, Marston, Lange Win Foursome Event of Buttes des Morts Club

Shooting a gross score of 40 in a best-ball foursome tournament at Butte des Morts golf club Monday, a quartet composed of A. C. Denney, F. H. Holbrook, G. Marston and George Lange was awarded the tourney first prize, a dozen golf balls. Each member of the foursome was given three balls.

Three foursomes were tied with gross scores of 82 for second place and as only three prizes were given one of the foursomes was eliminated from prize money drawing. Second prize was awarded to D. P. Steinberg, H. Woelz, George Woelz and F. Kranz. Third prize to W. Round, H. L. Davis, F. Schlitz and R. Getchow. Two golf balls were given to each member of the second place quartet and one each to the third place winners.

About 35 members of the club took part in the tournament. Scores were posted on a bulletin board and foursomes were made up for purposes of distributing prizes after the scores were turned in. In each foursome the best score for each hole was taken and the aggregate of best scores for 18 holes was the total score for the foursome.

Waterloo, Iowa—Ralph Alexander, Waterloo heavyweight, outpointed George Bourland, Des Moines, negro ($).

They say I'm fussy

WELL, let that go. I'm ready to admit that so far as pipe tobacco is concerned, I've got ideas. And if insisting on a tobacco that won't bite the tongue or parch the throat is "being fussy," you can write "guilty" alongside my name, and I won't even appeal the charge.

I can't speak for anybody else, but personally I smoke for pleasure! So I smoke Prince Albert. I'll say I do. Right after breakfast, on up until I switch off the light for the night. Pipe-load after pipe-load, Day after day. Prince Albert treats my tongue as gently as a mother handles a brand-new baby.

They tell me it's the Prince Albert process that cuts out bite and parch. Fair enough. I'll testify before the well-known world that P. A. is the coolest, sweetest, most genuinely friendly smoke a fellow can get on this planet. You suspect that the minute you throw back the hinged lid on the tidy red tin and get a whiff of real tobacco.

Now, I'm telling you to be fussy about your smoking. Many a pipe-smoker has fooled himself when he should have been soothing himself with P. A. I say it pays to be fussy about anything that means so much to a man. What do you think?

PRINCE ALBERT

—no other tobacco is like it!

HELPFUL HINTS FOR GOLFING STARS

JOHN G. ANDERSON—MASHE IS FAVORITE
It seems pertinent to say that good players need not load down their bags with extra clubs whose grips never see the light of day.
Now the reason is not in the extra flight of true ball, which distance, it is true, has been of exceeding yardage the past few years. Much comes in the power of the club, and the successful search for a club whose beautiful balance gives an extra 10 yards or more. If you will look over the precious clubs of star players you will find that their mashes are the best liked of all the clubs in the bag. Large-headed affairs most of them and finely tuned to the stiff stuff.
Without a mashie of pars I doubt very much if the present-day amateurs or pros would be able to beat par.
It doesn't seem so very long ago when we figured on the use of the mashie from a distance of not over 125 yards.
Nowadays it is the exception when a first-class player does not look for that club when he has a shot of up to 175 yards to make. A brassie plus a mashie gives all the way up to 450 yards.

Every Day Is Thrift Day

Thriftiness is a state of mind that is just as valuable an asset as a bank account, because thrift can always get a bank account of its own.

You can tell thrifty people by the way they read a newspaper, just as you can spot the other kind.

Headlines, sporting page, fashions—you know those people. And then, there are the folks who never put the paper down until they have had a look through the offers and opportunities in the classified section.

The Post-Crescent's Classified Section was made for these people who never miss a chance to save money by using their buying sense. It's full of dollar and hundred-dollar saving opportunities all the time.

Get the thrift habit today—read the classifications that touch your wants and your pocket-book. And when you want to use an ad of your own—call 543.

MINER BY DAY, CHAMP AT NIGHT IS LATZO'S ROLE

Welter King, Conqueror of Walker, Puts in Hard Day's Work Before Scraps

Scranton, Pa.—Pete Latzo, a miner by day and a pugilist celebrity by night.

There is the unique double role played by the newly crowned king of the welterweights—the boy who conquered the great Mickey Walker.

For the last six years this 23-year-old product of the coal mining region has worked the two-way shift.

One of a family of eight he comes of fighting stock. Three brothers before him were professional fighters, but only one Steve made much headway in the game. None progressed so sensationally as Peter, however, who, in his first bout in 1918, fought under the name of Young Clancy, because the Latzo name at that time was not regarded as an impressive nom de ring.

As Young Clancy, Pete topped his first battle, knocking out a fellow named Red Ferguson in three rounds. He followed that success by scoring three more victories in rapid and decisive fashion. His early achievements then induced him to fight under his real name of Latzo. The youthful Scranton champ has climbed the pugilistic ladder rapidly during the last three years. True, he was decisively whipped by Mickey Walker a few months after Walker won the welter title by edging the aged Jack Britton, but that proved only an incentive for Pete to get back in the running again.

The interesting and decidedly unusual part of Latzo's ring career is that he's never failed to lick an opponent that had previously defeated him. He's a scrapper without a jinx. Two years ago he fought the strong Willie Harmon in New York—and lost. A few months later Pete handed Harmon a fancy trouncing at Scranton. The same is true of Latzo's scuffles with Frankie Schell and Paul Doyle.

In the case of Doyle, Pete was licked right in his home town after a sensational battle. Boston put in a bid for their services and Latzo came through victoriously. George Ward, a good mauler, has dropped three battles to Latzo while the renowned Dave Shadle lost one decision and was given a draw in another bout with the Scranton miner boy. Morris Schlaifer, the only man to knock Latzo off his pins took Pete on in a return match at Philadelphia a couple months ago and barely managed to escape a knockout. Since then Schlaifer has not accomplished anything to speak of.

Latzo's favorite pastimes when not fighting or working in the mines is playing baseball and basketball. As a diamond performer, Pete is classed with the best in the anthracite field. He plays second base and the outfield.

Pete is under the management of Paddy Mullins who also looks after Harry Wills' interest. He's a great favorite throughout Pennsylvania where he's affectionately referred to as "Pete the miner boy." From now on, however, his admirers are certain to call him, "Pete the champion." And why shouldn't they?

POCAN HURLS K-C MEN TO WIN OVER NEENAH

Kimberly—Coming from behind in the sixth inning to score two runs, the Kimberly Clark Athletic baseball team of Kimberly defeated the Neenah aggregation in one of the most thrilling exhibitions on the local grounds. Neenah scored its run in the first inning, and threatened the Kimberly lead in every inning, except the third and fourth when Pocan whiffed the ball past the batters for strikeouts. Pocan on the mound for Kimberly held the Neenah batters at all times, but errors behind him gave Neenah advantages to fill the bases time after time. In the ninth inning with none out and the bases filled, Len Smith relieved Pocan on the mound and struck out Larson's two pinch hitters, with ease. Then Boots Lammers, Kimberly's new addition to the infield took the mound and shot the ball past a bewildered Neenah batter for the final strike out.

BIG ENGLISH DERBY STARTS WEDNESDAY

Epsom, England (AP)—England's greatest horse racing event—the derby—will be run Wednesday. As in recent years, thousands of thousands of persons will make their way to Epsom Downs for the classic.

Colorado, owned by Lord Derby and on which T. Weston will have the lead up is the favorite to win. Lord Astor's Swift and Sure also is well thought of by those who lay wagers. This year's derby may go down in history as the last untaxed derby, if it is the purpose of the government to institute a betting tax in November.

El Paso, Texas (AP)—Pete Lawson, New York negro lightweight champion, scored a technical knock out over Jack Johnson, former world heavyweight champion, at El Paso, Mexico (7).

Cedar Rapids—Jimmy Link, Paul, fl. coast welter champion, won from Pinky Mitchell (10).

Cleveland—Harry Wills, negro heavyweight floorball player and out-pointed Jeff Clark, Atlantic City (exhibition 6).

REWARD! LOST! My's Aunt, and Her.

HIS NAME IS—

RAYMOND STARR

His name is Starr and he shines brightly, does this 18-year-old pitcher of the Danville team. Three-Eye League. He stepped into the hall of fame the other day by hurling a hit, no-run game against the heavy-climbing Bloomington nine. He didn't issue a single pass, either throughout the fray and had the enemy popping up flies and rolling easy grounders.

FRANK LOCKHART WINS AUTO RACE

California Youth Takes 1st Major Engagement in 500-mile Indianapolis Grind

Indianapolis, Ind.—Frank Lockhart, of Los Angeles, Calif., debonair as a veteran campaigner of the brick and pine bowls thought driving his first major engagement won the fourth annual 500-mile race at the Indianapolis motor speedway Monday. The race was worth slightly more than $10,000 to him, lap prizes and accessory trophies and purses amounting to the $20,000 first money. He made his start in California road racing.

The race was stopped at the 175-mile race by rain, which combined with the oil splattered from 28 racing cars to make the brick oval too treacherous for safe driving. Renewal of the downpour cut shore the race at 400 miles.

Taking his second wind as the leaders neared the century post, young Lockhart forged to the front where he remained except for a momentary stop at the pits near the end of the race and he was five miles ahead of the field when the white flag sent the last racers from the course.

Harry Hartz won second prize of $10,000 for the third time in his competition in this race. Cliff Woodbury pulled up third winning $5,000. Others who placed were Fred Comer fourth; Peter DePaolo, fifth; Frank Elliott, sixth; Ralph Bratton, seventh; Ralph Hepburn, eighth; Phil Shafer, ninth and John Duff, tenth.

TO BUILD WEST COAST RAILWAY

New Florida Project Will Equal East Coast Line in Length

Pensacola, Fla. (AP)—West Florida will have a railroad equaling the one extending along the east coast if plans of leading business men throughout this section materialize.

A committee of three has experts at work assembling data on tonnage now available along the proposed route and the capable of development. Moving pictures will be made of the Gulf shore, Santa Rosa Sound, Choctawhatchee Bay and other water front territory. With the information the committee men will confer with land owners and obtain pledges of land donations of sufficient size to make it worth while for a railroad company to build the line in return for the land gifts.

It was on this basis that the Seaboard Air Line Railway company, with the West Palm Beach-Coleman connection more than a year ago. The same arrangement has been made for building the Seaboard line northward from Tampa.

The proposed line eastward from Pensacola, would follow the meandering line of the Gulf of Mexico, Santa Rosa Sound and Choctawhatchee Bay. This would traverse a section of water front that has been noted for three centuries as more for its magnificent scenery. Bluffs extend along the route for miles. The territory was the first to be developed in Florida, and there are now standing resorts and were built and patronized by the lords of Virginia, Georgia and other nearby states. The back country a part of the proposed route is rich in possibilities.

4 BOYS ENROLL IN "Y" CAMP AT BOULDER LAKE

More Than Dozen Cities in Country Sending Youths to Camp Manitowish

Four Appleton boys, Ted Bolton, Tad Meyer, Carl Wettengel and Francis McAllister have enrolled for a period at Camp Manitowish, state Y. M. C. A. camp for boys at Boulder Junction, according to John W. Pugh, box work secretary of the local association. McAllister is enrolled for the Hi-Y period. Green Bay leads the list of cities which have boys enrolled with 19, while Milwaukee and Chicago have 18 each. More than a dozen cities of the country are sending from one to 18 boys and the quota is expected to be filled soon. Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Missouri, South Dakota and the District of Columbia are sending boys to the Badger camp.

Camp Manitowish is the north woods camp owned and operated by the state association. It is located on Boulder lake, Vilas co., northern Wisconsin. Within a radius of 25 miles of the camp there are literally thousands of lakes, rivers and small streams, while the camp property itself consists of approximately 115 acres of land, with more than a mile of shore line on Boulder lake.

Every effort is made to insure the comfort of the boys who yearly visit trip this year will have the opportunity of enjoying the privileges of the new Nash lodge built at a cost of $25,000 by C. W. Nash, president of the Nash Motors company, Kenosha. The camp has a reputation for extra-food meals. The dining room and kitchen in Nash lodge are splendidly equipped and expert cooks prepare an abundance of well-cooked wholesome food. Each cabin group has a special table in the dining room and table manners are not neglected.

The periods are as follows: First June 30-July 14; second July 14-23; third, July 28-August 11; fourth, August 11-25; Hi-Y period, August 25-Sept. 3.

The capacity of the camp for one or two periods at least, is usually reached long before the season opens. Hence it is very important that application be made early. No boy is expected to come to camp without having made arrangements in advance. The camp fee is purposely kept low in comparison with other high-grade camps in order to bring the benefits to a larger number. The income from camp fees is planned to cover only the current operating expense, and whatever money is spent for property improvements must be secured from special donations.

IMPROVE PRODUCTS WITH FEDERAL AID

Washington (AP)—American industries are estimated by officials of the Bureau of Standards to be spending half a million dollars a year in co-operative researches with the Bureau to promote higher standards of products.

Under the Research Associate Plan, adopted shortly after the war when the increasing demand for highly trained technical men threatened depletion of the Bureau staff, a manufacturer places a graduate physicist, chemist or engineer, at the Bureau for one or more years to carry on, with government experts, an investigation of a particular industry.

This Plan, says Dr. George K. Burgess, Bureau Director, "has proved valuable, both in the training of additional research specialists by association with the Bureau staff and in maintaining the research output of the Bureau in lines which are of special industrial importance." The cooperative method, however, is looked upon as somewhat more certain of practical results since both the views of the government and private industrial experts are woven into the tests.

There are Two Types of Oil Burners

Industrial—and Household!

The industrial burner is designed for continuous operation. It burns low-grade oils—with the aid of special pre-heating apparatus—under the care of a trained engineer.

The household burner is designed to be efficient in intermittent operation, as heat is needed. Automatically—without attention—it must provide clean, odorless, quiet, safe, even, economic heat.

The Winslow Boiler and Engineering Company makes both. Its superiority in both fields is accepted.

Kleen-Heet—considered by engineers the most perfect of all household oil burners—is not an adaptation of the industrial burner. It is engineered specifically to do one job—and one only—to heat homes to perfection! And it does! Its instant efficiency multiplies the many advantages of oil over other forms of heating.

This marked engineering superiority of Kleen-Heet is reflected in a six-year record of unflinching performance.
